Lindbergh Takes Back His Plane To Mitchel Field

Hops Off For Washington at 3:03 a. m. and Returns With His "Spirit of St. Louis in Less Than Five Hours—Unannounced Visit Required Only 25 Minutes.

Mitchel Field, N. Y., June 16 (AP).—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew to Washington for his "Spirit of St. Louis" in the small hours of the morning, returned with the other half of his famous "we" at 7:57 (daylight time).

The round trip was made in less than 5 hours. He hopped off from here in a borrowed army pursuit plane and a borrowed outfit at 3:03 o'clock and arrived at Bolling Field, Washington, at 4:44 a. m. (daylight time), leaped from the plane to his beloved Spirit of St. Louis and took off again for New York at 5:09.

The flight again demonstrated the amazing ability of the youthful flier to do without sleep. He had slept until noon yesterday but from then on the day was a continual whirl of luncheons, receptions and theatre parties. Today he planned to take a short nap before beginning another crowded program of activities that was to start at 10:30 a. m.

Lindbergh was attending a midnight show at the Roxy Theatre, given as a benefit for the dependents of the missing French fliers, Nungesser and Coli, when he apparently reached a sudden decision to get his plane, which had been left behind in Washington due to engine trouble. Unknown to most of the 6,000 persons in the theatre, Lindbergh, accompanied by Grover Whalen, chairman of the mayor's committee, and Captain R. R. Blythe, his personal representative, left the theatre at 2 o'clock and entered an automobile.

Reporters Caught Unawares.

Newspapermen who had been trailing Lindbergh since his descent upon the city believed he was returning to his temporary apartment in Park avenue and were caught unawares when his machine went in an opposite direction. Lindbergh took the wheel of the car himself and soon outdistanced the reporters.

When they saw the machine heading towards the Queensborough Bridge they knew he was bound for one of the flying fields on Long Island and arrived here as he was about to take off.

Lindbergh greeted them with a broad grin. "Well," he said, "I gave you the slip that time."

He had been dressed in full evening clothes but over this had put on a flying suit borrowed from the field commandant. He also had borrowed a helmet and goggles.

"I'll be back in time to keep all my engagements today," he called. The motor whirred, the plane started down the field and a few minutes he was out of sight.

He was accompanied to Washington, by Lt. Sinclair Street in a plane of the same type. On his return trip he also was accompanied by Lt. Commanders Wick and Miles, of the navy.

25 Minutes Required.

Washington, June 16 (AP).—Charles A. Lindbergh swooped down upon Washington out of the darkness of the early morning hours from New York today, jumped into the cockpit of his famous trans-Atlantic airplane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," threw wide open her throttle and darted away toward New York.

The unannounced and unceremonial visit required only twenty-five minutes, merely time enough for the flier to change from the army plane which he boarded two hours before at Mitchell Field, Long Island, to his own plane which was left here after his home coming welcome because of engine troubles.

Only a few newspapermen, a scattering group of sleepy-eyed spectators and the personnel of the naval and army air fields witnessed the quiet arrival and hopoff, which was in sharp contrast to the clamor which accompanied Lindbergh's home coming here on Saturday and his departure on Monday.

Lindbergh was preceded a few minutes before his arrival by Lt. Sinclair Street, of the army air corps, and on the return trip to New York Lt. Commanders Wick and Miles of the navy joined the escort. They flew ahead of the trans-Atlantic pilot.

No Feat For Flier.

Although the sun had not shown itself when Lindbergh arrived and departed, flood lights from the naval station made Bolling Field as bright as day, and threw "The Spirit of St. Louis" into sharp outline as the winged away.

Lindbergh flew down from New York in 1 hour and 59 minutes during the early morning hours to take "The Spirit of St. Louis" back to New York so that he can fly the craft from there to St. Louis tomorrow.

As an air mail flier it was no feat for him to penetrate the darkness. He landed perfectly amid the artificial illumination of the beacon light and scores of blue ground lights.

"The flight was without incident," was the laconic comment of Lt. Street.

When he landed at 2:44 a. m. Lindbergh conversed briefly with newspapermen and had his photograph taken while he remained in the army plane. But he kept his motor running while his photograph was being taken. He then went to "The Spirit of St. Louis" with a flash light and went with Lt. Commander Wick into a hangar for a short conference on the plane for the return trip.

Finally ten past 5 the trans-Atlantic plane at 5:05 o'clock the famous pilot taxied about 500 yards down the field and swinging sharply around he turned the throttle on full and took off at 5:09 a. m.

Brooklyn Greets Lindbergh, Large Gathering at Park

150,000 School Children Spread Along the Line of March—Prospect Park Crowded—Another Paper Snowstorm in New York.

New York, June 16 (AP).—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh after a hasty breakfast at Mitchel Field today parted again from the inanimate partner of his adventures and returned to Manhattan for a rest before continuing the rigorous program laid out for him.

The Park avenue district above the Grand Central Terminal where the flier is staying in a borrowed apartment, was astir with excitement as the time approached for Lindbergh to leave for Brooklyn.

Torn paper fluttered from hundreds of windows, as it had on his initial New York greeting Monday, and crowds gathered in the street cheered on the last rumor that their idol was about to appear.

As Lindbergh appeared on the street the paper snowstorm took on blizzard dimensions and his car rolled off between sidewalks crowded with cheering men and women. Work was temporarily suspended in office buildings as employes crowded the windows.

Presented With Scroll.

After a brief visit to police headquarters where Lindbergh thanked Commissioner Warren for the police protection given him, he went to the offices of The Sun where he was presented with a scroll on which was inscribed an editorial printed while Lindbergh was over the Atlantic on his way to France.

With a motorcycle escort clering the way with shrieking sirens, Lindbergh's car left the newspaper building and swept across Manhattan Bridge. It was greeted at the Brooklyn end by the shrill cheers of the nearest of the 150,000 school children who were spread along the line of march.

Thirty-two hundred police had their hands full managing the crowds in Brooklyn. Prospect Park was crowded and there was considerable confusion when the grand stands to which tickets had been issued were overrun and pre-empted by the unlicensed.

There were ten autos in the parade, Colonel Lindbergh's car being at the head of the line. The parade was preceded by 100 motorcycle policemen. The line moved along the crowded route at a speed of about 20 miles per hour, Lindbergh waving to the thousands who lined the way and cheered incessantly.

One woman was trampled on in rush for seats at Prospect Park, where the formal ceremony of presentation was scheduled. She was sent to a hospital.

Bad Weather Will Delay Byrd

New York, June 16 (AP).—With his tri-motored Fokker monoplane America fueled and provisioned for its projected flight to Paris, Commander Richard E. Byrd today faced a probable delay of several days in his take off owing to unfavorable weather conditions.

Atmospheric conditions over the Atlantic could hardly be worse than at present, the weather bureau announced. "There is no chance for a transatlantic flight by Friday," said Forecaster James Starr, who also declared the outlook for tomorrow was not very good.

Commander Byrd had previously announced he would not attempt the flight until the weather bureau had given its approval and indications were the flight would not be made before Saturday and possibly not until next week.

Conduct Radio "Fading" Tests

Schenectady, June 16 (AP).—Radio "fading" tests are to be conducted by WGY, the General Electric Company's eastern broadcasting station, between 9 and 9:30 p. m., eastern standard time, tomorrow and on June 21.

The test program will be broadcast at five minute intervals under three different conditions at the transmitter. Three conditions, designated as "A", "B" and "C", will not be disclosed until after cumulation of reports on record, lest they might set up some bias in the minds of the broadcast listeners.

Stelle's Romance Began in Japan

Former Kingstonian to Wed Oregonian Whom He Met in Yokahoma—Marriage to Take Place in India.

At least one smart affair of the past week left in its wake more than a flurry of excitement and interest among a large group of friends of the hostess, says a recent issue of the Eugene, Oregon, Morning Review.

At a bridge tea on Wednesday afternoon which she planned as a compliment to Mrs. George Houck (Flora Campbell) of Boston, Miss Lillian Auld told the interesting news of her betrothal to Edward Taylor Stelle of Kingston, New York, and now of Calcutta, India.

The news came as a complete surprise to most of her friends, and was received with a great deal of interest. Miss Auld is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Auld, and is a most attractive and talented maid. She has lived in Eugene for several years, having attended both the Eugene high school and the University of Oregon, from where she was graduated in 1922. On the campus she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, of Pot and Quill honorary writing society, and of Dial club, and she has done various work in art and writing. Since her graduation she has traveled extensively in Europe and the orient in company with her aunt, Mrs. Lillian Seaton.

Mr. Stelle is the son of Dr. and Mrs. L. K. Stelle of Kingston, New York, and is a graduate of Columbia University, New York, with the class of 1921. He is a Sigma Chi fraternity man, and during his college career was prominent in athletics, being a member of the varsity fencing team and holding, at one time the national junior fencing championship. He also represented America in the international fencing matches. In 1923 he rowed with the victorious all-American eight which won the Henli crew regatta in China.

He is at present with the National City Bank of New York, stationed with the Calcutta branch, having spent several years with the Shanghai branch before going out to India last fall.

The engagement comes as the culmination of a romance begun in Yokahoma a year and a half ago, when Miss Auld and Mrs. Seaton were traveling in the orient on the same vessel with Mr. Stelle.

Leaving the States in September in company with Mrs. M. D. Purdy, Miss Auld will sail for Calcutta, reaching there about November 7, and the wedding will be solemnized soon after her arrival in India.

Nungesser Rumor Is Discredited

Quebec, June 16 (AP).—A rumor that Nungesser and Coli, missing French aviators, had been found on the Shipshaw river was generally discredited today.

The rumor originated in a telephone conversation an employe of a large coroporation in the district north of the Saguenay river had with his mother in Quebec city. He is said to have told her the missing fliers were there alive and safe. Government officials and lumber camps, however, declared they could find no confirmation of the report.

They said the rumors probably were based on flares seen in the country northeast of Saguenay river which it was thought might have been sent up by the missing airmen.

Dairymen Lose $11,000,000 a Year, Says League Head

More Efficient Production and Distribution Lead Three Means of Getting More Money for Milk, Says President Slocum—Describes Work of League.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 16.—A tragic condition which causes losses of $11,000,000 annually to dairymen of the New York Milk Shed was pointed to by G. W. Slocum, president of the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, Inc., at its annual meeting here today as the outstanding problem of an industry which represents 53 per cent of all the earnings of agriculture in this territory.

The hour has arrived when dairymen must make a united stand to protect their great New York city market, declared Mr. Slocum as he pictured the attempts being made by certain interests to have the territory supplying the great city extended westward. He did not spare the eastern producers, however, for to them he directed blame for any market losses they may sustain in the future.

Wateful Methods.

"If the eastern dairyman loses his market to a keener western producer," said Mr. Slocum, "it will be because of our wasteful methods and for no other reason. The wastes are duplication of plant operations, duplicate hauling, less than carload shipments, and extra brokerage charges. These questions are outside the field of controversy, yet they are ignored and there is not one good reason for it. Western milk is knocking at the doors of our market. The time has arrived when dairymen unitedly must take a positive stand on this matter. If we take advantage of our marketing opportunities we need have no fear as to the future of our business, no fear of western competition.

"We approach the danger line as we increase prices without regard to competitive costs. There are three ways of getting more money for the farmer: By more efficient production; by more efficient distribution; by a higher price to the consumer. When a higher price to the consumer is being considered our eyes must be focused on the first and second factors. If this is done, we will to a great measure eliminate the danger of losing our markets."

Magnitude of Industry.

Magnitude of the dairy industry was portrayed by Mr. Slocum when he asserted that the New York Milk Shed covers 15,000,000 acres and supplies milk for 13,000,000 people, or 15 per cent of the population of the United States. To supply this milk there are 1,500,000 cows and a capital investment in farms, live stock, plants and distribution facilities of $1,250,000,000.

During the past year, said Mr. Slocum, the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, Inc., has smashed all previous records in gross sales of $75,716,900. During eleven months of the year the pool price paid members ranged from 1 to 18 cents above the same month of the previous year, and the average above the period from 1921 to 1926 was 13 to 39 cents, while the period 1906-1916 was surpassed by from 22 cents to $1.26 per 100 pounds.

League's Financial Strength.

Financial strength of the Dairymen's League was proclaimed most pleasing by Mr. Slocum. "In 1921 our members loaned the organization $4,306,634," he said. "We assumed a tremendous responsibility on which our opponents capitalized, saying it would never be paid back. On May 1 we completely met the last payment on this obligation. Anticipating our 1928 maturities we have already retired $2,914,000 of our next year's obligations."

Mr. Slocum enumerated much of the detail work of the association during the past year and described the accomplishments made possible by cooperative effort of the farmers. He told of the survey of the entire Milk Shed made last fall when fears were expressed that there was not going to be enough milk for the metropolitan market and of the evidence produced proving there were adequate supplies. He described the attempts made by some a few months ago to raze the Milk Shed widened and the strenuous protest filed by the league and which has led to assurance from New York City Health Authorities that no such step will be taken for the present.

League Leads in Progress.

"The league has been foremost in initiating every progressive move made for the dairy industry of the east," said Mr. Slocum, "and while much has been accomplished, who can measure how much more effective our work would be if scarce members had the united support of all dairymen. With all the dairymen in one organization the elimination of waste and duplication of effort would seal our markets to the milk shed and scientific production would at all times provide an adequate supply without a burdensome surplus."

Coolidges in The Black Hills

President Rests From Long Journey In Summer White House In State Game Lodge—Perfect Plans For Carrying out Business.

Rapid City, S. D., June 16 (AP).—Far from the centers of population, President Coolidge turned to a new life today in the Black Hills of South Dakota, where pine-covered mountains and wild game almost hedged him from the outside world.

In the center of 36 square miles of forests he has set up the Summer White House in the State Game Lodge where for the next two months or so he will live in a region skirting the great farming regions of the northwest.

It is the farthest west Mr. Coolidge has come since he became President, and no chief executive before him had traveled this far from Washington to live for such an extended period.

In the quiet retreat which will be his home he had an ideal setting for rest and relaxation. Within a stone's throw of the game lodge, mountain streams abounding in spirited trout awaited should he care to angle, and for both himself and Mrs. Coolidge shaded paths carpeted with the fallen pine needles of many years gave a promise of many pleasant hours of walking.

Solitude and natural scenery of charm and distinction enclosed them from all sides.

While Mr. Coolidge acclimatized himself to his new surroundings and rested from the fatiguing two-day journey from Washington which necessitated many public appearances, his secretary, Everett Sanders, and the White House personnel moved rapidly to perfect arrangements for carrying out the executive end of the nation's business. Space in the Rapid City High School had been set aside for their use and Mr. Sanders and Edward T. Clark, the president's private secretary, will be stationed there to keep Mr. Coolidge in constant touch with the National Capital. Plans of President Coolidge had not been definitely worked out, but it was said he would motor the 32 miles from the game lodge three or four times a week to meet visitors and transact business in the executive offices. Several truck loads of files which came west with him on his special train already were in their places in the offices.

Chamberlin Off For Hanover

Frankfort, Germany, June 16 (AP).—Bearing numerous souvenirs add mementoes of their visits to Baden-Baden, Karlsruhe, Friedrichshafen and Frankfort, the American transatlantic aviators, Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine, left by air today for Hanover. After a short stop there they will proceed to Bremen, where tomorrow they will be joined by their wives, who are due from New York on the liner Berlin.

The fliers' overnight visit here was marked by a series of festivities, in the course of which they inscribed their names in the city's golden book. Burgomaster Menge will welcome the fliers at Hanover, and they will be the guests of the municipality at luncheon.

The North German Lloyd has arranged a banquet in their honor aboard the steamer Bremen at Bremenhaven.

CAPTAIN EDWARD ALBRECHT RETURNS TO HIS HOME.

Captain Edward Albrecht of the paid fire department, who was injured at the city hall fire, has sufficiently recovered from his injuries to be removed to his home No. 73 West Union street. Captain Albrecht sustained an injured back and a broken leg and will be confined to his home for some time. He was the more seriously injured of the firemen hurt fighting the fire.

CIGARETTE STARTED FIRE IN COLONIAL SUBWAY

Fire, which started among some loose papers that had blown under the wooden platform in the Colonial Subway at the West Shore railroad, called out the fire department about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. While the platform was somewhat scorched the damage was slight and the fire was soon brought under control by the use of chemicals.

Mysterious Fire On Chestnut St.

Fire Chief Murphy and Police Sergeant Phinney Investigate Fire That Broke Out in Vacant House at No. 12 East Chestnut Street.

Last Thursday night those living in the vicinity of No. 12 East Chestnut street were awakened from their slumbers by the smell of burning wood, and arising from their beds made an investigation but found no trace of fire in the vicinity. After thinking the matter over for several days one of the residents in that vicinity called up Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy and informed him that it was believed there had been a fire in the vacant house at No. 12 East Chestnut street.

In response to the telephone call the fire chief, accompanied by Police Sergeant Phinney, entered the vacant house Tuesday evening and found that a fire had started in the cellar, but had evidently burned itself out.

The fire had every appearance of having been one of incendiary origin. It had burned out the wooden sidings in the cellar and had eaten its way into the floor timbers of the first floor. Then it had evidently been smothered by lack of air as the cellar was tightly closed and damp. The fact that the fire smothered itself was probably the only thing that saved the entire house from being burned.

From the appearance of the fire it had evidently been started several days ago, and the fire department and police department believe it was set on fire by a person or persons unknown at the present time.

The house, which is a large one, was sold at public auction some time ago and was purchased by a New York city resident. The new owner is a relative of Mrs. Loretta Soloman of Sleightsburgh. The property for many years was occupied by the late Colonel John McEntee, and later was occupied by Gilbert F. Kennedy and also by Mrs. Alida V. D. Hibbard.

Expedition Into The Unexplored

Jasper, Alta., June 16 (AP).—An expedition into the last unexplored ice region of the Canadian Rockies will take the trail here on June 23. Three months will be spent in exploration, survey and mountain climbing in this remote hinterland of the Dominion.

Alfred J. Osthemer, Jr., prominent geographer and Alpinist, of Philadelphia, will head the party. Mr. Osthemer has had experience in exploration work in the Rockies. He will be assisted by John De Laitre, of Minneapolis, and W. R. MacLaurin, of Boston. Hans Furrer, Swiss guide, Adam Jacobim and Kenneth Saladana, packers; and Dan Hoover, cook—all of Jasper will accompany the expedition.

Powers Will Not Warn Russia

London, June 16 (AP).—Fear of rousing Russian nationalistic feeling to a dangerous point has caused abandonment of the plan for a warning by the European powers against further communistic propaganda abroad and alleged terrorism by the soviets at home.

In reconsidering their original decision the foreign ministers now of Germany for the League of Nations country are said to have overlooked that formal, written action of the nature contemplated might create the impression in Russia that a united front was being formed against the soviet union.

KINGSTON CONCERN OFFERS CATSKILL SANITARY ICE.

Monday evening Alson J. Winfield, president of the Ulster County Ice and Coal Corporation of this city, and John Stevenson, a stockholder, appeared before the Catskill Chamber of Commerce and made a proposition to establish a plant in Catskill. According to the Catskill Mail the Kingston men made a proposition to establish a complete storage plant in Catskill at a cost of $15,000. A building for the purpose had been secured under option near the West Shore station. To equip this station and provide the necessary delivery trucks the corporation desired $15,000 subscribed in Catskill to preferred 7 per cent stock. For each two shares of stock sold the corporation would give free one share of common stock, now held by President Winfield. The sentiment of the meeting was favorable and W. K. Hagginbothom was made a committee of one to visit Kingston and inspect the plant here and make a report individually to the business men of Catskill.

Diet Makes Goldfish Live for Twenty Years

London.—How long will a goldfish live? Any life insurance underwriter who was sufficiently enterprising would quote a first-class goldfish's life at from fifteen to twenty years, providing the environment is suitable and if it is regularly fed on ants' eggs and crushed vermicelli and not on crumbs of black beetles, according to aquarium authorities.

The carp family, to which the goldfish belongs, is famous for longevity. There are carp in the ponds of the Chateau de Chantilly in France which belonged to the Prince de Conde and which are supposed to be centuries old.

MUSEUM CURATOR TRACES DADDIES OF "WILD" HORSES

Tells of Antediluvian Steeds That Never Knew Bridle and Were Mysteriously Slain.

Washington.—Out in the West where they have roamed the ranges for years, wild horses are being rounded up for extinction.

These thousands never have known bridle nor rider and have obeyed only the laws of nature, but are not "wild" at all—in the scientific sense.

They're merely tame, domesticated equines "gone native," as it were.

Back long before the first red-skinned Americans made their appearance, this country was full of real "wild horses," ancestors of the western ponies now being caught for disposition.

These real wild horses had lived and died—killed off in some strange way unknown to science—in a geologic age antedating the human age.

Dr. James W. Gidley, assistant curator of vertebrate paleontology of the United States National museum, is just back from Florida, where he came across the bones of scores of these animals. The country is full of such fossils, he says, even as Europe and other parts of the world are.

"Geologic records show these earlier horses were far more numerous and diversified in kind than the horses of today," said Doctor Gidley, in relating their story.

"Going backward in time, they are seen to be less and less like their living successors, although they all possess certain characteristics of body structure that stamp them as belonging to the same natural group of animals."

Our own old dobbin is really an "import." His immediate ancestors were brought from Europe with the first Spaniards to visit this country, soon after Columbus arrived, and the European horses of that time came from an Asiatic stock, that, in turn, came from some species of this geologic wild horse.

Russia Has Lottery in Which No One Is Loser

Moscow.—Over $10,000,000 were subscribed in Moscow alone in seven days when the Soviet state lottery loan was opened. This is an average of $5 for each inhabitant of the city.

Besides the grand prize of $25,000, many hundreds of smaller rewards are offered for the holders of lucky numbers. In addition, every subscriber will eventually recover his money, under the lottery rules, as the contribution is in the form of a state loan. The tickets were sold on the installment plan, with six months in which to pay.

In Leningrad and other centers the lottery loan was well supported but without the spectacular speed and volume which were its features in Moscow.

Negroes' Ark Refuses to Float During Flood

Memphis, Tenn.—Exhorted by their parson, a community of negroes in the lowlands near Parkin, Ark., emulated the example of Noah when they heard the flood was approaching and hastily built an ark. Into the crude vessel they crowded themselves and all their worldly belongings, including chickens, dogs, cats and mules. While they waited for the flood they prayed and rejoiced.

The flood came, but the ark refused to float. Water poured in from a hundred leaks in the uncaulked hull, and with the flood a foot and a half deep on the floor of the flat-bottomed craft its occupants fled to a railway embankment.

Sues Her Cousin for $20,000 Wedding Gift

New York.—Suit to secure a wedding gift of $20,000, alleged to have been promised her, has been brought by Mrs. Adele L. Condon of Nice, France, against her cousin, Leon Schinasi, multimillionaire cigarette manufacturer.

Relying on Schinasi's alleged promise of a $20,000 gift, Mrs. Condon, formerly Miss Adele L. Schreiter of this city, charges she advanced her wedding date and married Rene Condon, a bank clerk from Nice, in this city October 2, 1926.

Schinasi, in his reply, said the money was not to be paid within a year after the marriage.

Kills Pesky Bed-Bugs Roaches and Ants

Doctors declare that bed-bugs, roaches and other vermin are the worst to be feared means of spreading such diseases as consumption, spinal meningitis and other infectious troubles. There is no disgrace in getting bed-bugs in your home, because that can't be avoided. But it is a disgrace to permit them to remain and thrive when it is so easy to get rid of them with the new chemical compound, P.D.Q., which quickly puts an end to these pesky devils.

A Million Bed-Bugs

A 25-cent package of this golden chemical will make a quart of a mixture that is so deadly to bed-bugs that it would kill a million of them if you could get that many together. Instantly it smothers and annihilates the living creatures; coats their eggs and stops them from hatching and multiplying.

Will Not Damage Goods

P.D.Q. will not injure delicate fabrics, clothing, carpets, furniture, bedding, wall paper or woodwork. In fact, it is often used as a deodorizer and disinfectant.

Moths

Impossible for moths to exist after using P.D.Q. Easy to use. A treatment on garments will prevent moths for two years.

For Ants and Cockroaches

Ants and cockroaches stand no chance of surviving a treatment of P.D.Q. It attacks them and their eggs with such force that it kills their whole generation.

P. D. Q. in Liquid Form

P.D.Q. can be purchased in sealed bottles double strength liquid form, with patent sprayer free. P.D.Q. Liquid can be diluted to make a quart or it can be used pure.

P.D.Q. is marketed in two style packages. Liquid form 50c, ready for use and P.D.Q. Dry form, 35c. Each package makes one quart.

Get P.D.Q. from your druggist today. Your money back if the bugs are not gone tomorrow.

A good drink for the children because it is pure

"CANADA DRY" is an especially good drink to serve freely to the children because of its purity and quality and because it is made from the highest grade Jamaica ginger.

That is an important point to remember because many cheap ginger ales do not contain any ginger whatsoever, but are made with capsicum (red pepper).

Naturally they do not have—they just can't have—the same delicate flavor as "Canada Dry" nor are they as genuinely good for you.

Proof of the outstanding quality of "Canada Dry" is found in the fact that it is served in the great hospitals in Canada and in this country.

There is, indeed, no beverage in all the world that is made with more exacting care than "Canada Dry." It is so different from the ordinary ginger ale that it might almost be called by another name.

"CANADA DRY"

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

This is the handy Home Package of 12 bottles—the most convenient way to buy "Canada Dry."

Extract imported from Canada and bottled in the U. S. A. by Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Incorporated, 25 West 43rd Street, New York, N. Y. In Canada, J. J. McLaughlin Limited. Established 1890.

If you talked with Donald Brian about throat protection, he'd say to you:

"There's a big difference in cigarettes, I find. I am especially critical because my voice is such an important factor in my profession. I find Lucky Strikes protect it, keeping it ever clear and never harsh."

Donald Brian

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

New Dress Style Is More Feminine

Silk Favored in Frocks for Summer Wear; Coats of Every Length.

In the picturesque old times, writes a fashion authority in the New York Times, great-great-grandmother's most prized possession was a silken gown. That precious bit in the wardrobe of a lady in our country's early days has inspired poets, painters and song writers. So the one silk frock is distinguished in the history of fashions in this country. The silken gown is associated in our minds with early American art and ways, for the woman of the colonial period made the most valued treasure in her outfit one dress that was made of silk. The rest might be of percale, of alpaca, delaine or any of the other less costly materials. But the best dress was of silk and usually black. Crepe was not known and satin was for the grande dame, so the silk frock was made of a material like that now known as taffeta. None but a fashion historian, perhaps, could qualify as an expert in classifying in modern terms that original, lustrous, light, crisp weave which for all its delicacy almost stood alone and was considered a good investment, since it was expected to last a lifetime and seldom failed to justify the expectations.

A far cry it is from that phase of social and sartorial experience, when one silk gown constituted such a treasure, to the affluence of today, when silk of some sort or another is the fabric in which most women are dressed from head to foot. The present-day fashions would thrill the woman of that period in more ways than one. Silk is taken very much for granted now.

Now every type of dress and wrap, and even lingerie, is made of silk or silk crepe. It is no longer a luxury, but an every-day matter in the wardrobe, and has become so usual in the last four seasons that cotton, linen and wool are decided exceptions. It is amazing to what extent silk has superseded the fabrics so long considered more practical and essential, and the search for novelty now brings forward the commonplace things of yesterday.

Sports Frock, Suit, Ensemble.

First, last and most carefully chosen of items in the modern outfit for summer is the sports frock, suit or ensemble. This is a sign that sports activities include many besides vigorous athletics, for the name attaches to pretty dresses that would do for luncheon, for bridge, for about town and for a thousand and one other occasions. As the country clubs open, the sports costume in countless variants is seen, and practically all of them but those designed for golf, driving and yachting are made of crepe or of taffeta.

There are many different weights and weaves of crepe, making possible an entire wardrobe of this one material suitable for formal or informal wear, for daytime and evening. The quality is so fine and the colors are so uncommonly lovely this season that every woman may be very comfortably and most becomingly equipped for the season. Everything for morning, afternoon and evening in gowns, suits and ensembles; in wraps for both formal and informal wear and for lingerie.

In most of the models presented in the latest Paris collections and by the most exclusive designers on this side the feeling of femininity is distinct. With sports clothes some of the strictly tailored suits have a feminine touch in a motif of embroidery and tucking in many clever patterns; in ribbon, pipings, soft neck lines and scarfs used instead of collars. Needlework, fagoting, hem-stitching and appliqué are shown on many of the frocks and wraps, and the alternating of materials is new and exceedingly good.

In a recent model from a prominent French designer an ultra-smart sports suit has a blouse of white flat crepe with a square yoke of the same material, but to descend below the waistline on one side. The neck is a shallow square, fastened at one side with a row of small buttons and loops. A narrow band of gold galloon outlines the neck, follows the line of the arm on the upper part of the sleeve to the hand, and on each outside pocket is appliqued in gold a cluster of scallops to represent grapes. This uncommonly effective blouse has a narrow strap belt of the crepe and is worn with a black velvet skirt. Another sports costume is made of navy blue flat crepe with a shirt bosom front of finely tucked white crepe de chine, and collar and cuffs of fine batiste.

Worn at the Races.

Not a little of the vigor of the social season in Paris is contributed by the gala gatherings at the various race courses. Longchamps, Chantilly, St. Cloud—each in its turn crowded with interest mounting higher and higher as the culminating week, the "Grande Semaine," drew nearer. Feminine Paris flocks to these places ostensibly to enjoy the races, but in reality to admire and be admired. Later, the race gowns are characteristically of lace or chiffon, but earlier a light wrap of some sort is desirable and the compose ensemble of silk rules a favorite.

Ensembles have coats of every length this season, so that Lelong is breaking no rules when he chooses to have his compose ensemble in black and white with a short box jacket of white satin embroidered with heavy black silk thread in a series of spider-webbed quarter circles that begin very small about the neck, increasing in size toward the bottom of the jacket, where a heavy trellis pattern forms a border. A little standing collar, also embroidered, and a white chiffon lining are other interesting details noted before the jacket swings open to show the frock beneath.

This sleeveless frock, though of very feminine black crepe de chine, attains a certain masculine swagger through the vest-like cut of its bodice, with a square neck, and double-breasted front fastened under a double row of cut steel buttons, as a man's vest is fastened. The skirt is group-plaited at either side front.

Use of Black and White.

Black and white admits of so many original compose effects, it is not surprising to find it experimented with by many designers. Redfern's most successful effort results in a long, straight coat of white taffeta, lined in white chiffon and stitched in black silk in long lines ending in a floral design about the lower half of the coat. A large collar and cuffs of monkey fur lay strands of intense black against this light background.

As for the gown, the loose waist is of white georgette, the back of the skirt of black georgette and the front of the skirt made in two tiers, each draped to the left with ends hanging. It is in white georgette. Also on the left side of the white waist is a triangular jabot of black georgette, and the lower part of the baggy sleeves is of black. Cutting the gown so abruptly into contrasting sections this way might easily give a disturbing harlequin effect, but does not in this model, as the transition from one color to another is softened by embroidering the edges of the white in open eyelets of black outlined in gold, and the edges of the black in white eyelets also touched with gold.

Three new and noteworthy features distinguish a Parisian ensemble of gray chiffon flanked in black in a blurred wave design. The first of these is that the three-quarter-length coat is of the same material as the gown; second, that it is unlined, and third, that it is sleeveless, depending on the gown for sleeves. A circular flounce is set on to the coat at the waistline in front to form a soft line with the three flounces on the gown skirt; and finally, the scarf collar with its little bouquet of stiff flat flowers is stamped from bright colored leathers.

Got His Big Ballroom

Melbourne, Australia, has one unusual distinction because one of its ministers of public works wanted a spacious ballroom, according to a story told many years ago by George Bowen, formerly governor of Victoria. Bowen related that when the Victoria government house was built at Melbourne the then minister of public works inquired of the architect what was the largest regal or vice-regal ballroom in the British empire. The architect replied that Buckingham palace held that distinction.

"Then make ours one-third larger," said the minister grandly. His orders were carried out.—Sydney Bulletin

First Street Railways

Boston's first street railway was opened in 1856, and Philadelphia inaugurated a similar service the following year. The first street railway in England was at Birkenhead in 1860. In the same year a line was laid in Liverpool, and London's first "train" dates from 1862. The first street railway in France was from St. Cloud to Paris and was constructed in 1876.

Rice in America

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 16, 1927.

Announcement has been made by Senator Reed Smoot of Utah that President Coolidge will call a special session of Congress to meet early in October. The last Congress did not pass the deficiency appropriations bill—which means that agencies so necessary as federal courts will not be able to function much longer for lack of money to carry them on, although there is a large surplus in the treasury. Congress will be expected promptly to pass that bill at the extra session. Other things as important as flood relief, and constructive measures for flood prevention in future are to be taken up. Valuable time will be lost if these matters are allowed to run over to the regular session. Tax reduction may enter into consideration also, but the need of prompt action on the deficiency appropriation and Mississippi rehabilitation matters are undoubtedly the main cause for the President's decision.

SPEED LIMIT INCREASED.

Perhaps it is still widely supposed that there is safety in a low speed limit for automobiles, but with the multiplication of cars this view seems to have been abandoned. Until a couple of years ago a few states still kept the maximum speed limit down as low as 20 miles an hour, but the tendency has long been upward, and now it appears that Pennsylvania is raising the limit to 35 miles and that California has just adopted a 40-mile speed limit. This upward movement is attributed partly to improved highways, advance in motor speed, and development of more adequate steering gears and brakes.

Notwithstanding the menacing recklessness or stupidity of drunken or temperamentally unfit drivers, there is gratifying report of a general increase of skill and care in the management of cars, and, though accidents are still appalling in number and consequences, they are now fewer than formerly in proportion to the number of cars on the roads.

CHAMBERLIN FOLLOWS.

The flight of Chamberlin and Levine in no way detracts from the achievement of Lindbergh. In fact, had Lindbergh accomplished the feat, and had several others followed him and been unsuccessful, the feeling would have been that Lindbergh's after all, was largely a piece of luck.

But with the Bellanca plane making its accomplishment so swiftly after the Spirit of St. Louis, Lindbergh is seen not merely as a lucky and plucky gambler with fate, but as a pioneer, as the true leader of a procession, never at any time hereafter to stop moving. Pinedo, too, should be remembered in the roster of transoceanic flyers of this sky-shearing June.

Had the first Yankee clipper ship been the only one, it would have remained in history a freak. As it was, it started a swifter movement of goods around the world than has been known in recorded history. The more aerial travelers who follow this lead, the greater glory for all of them—and the surer proof that this is not a stunt but the beginning of a different method.

REFUSING DRINKS.

A church temperance society in New York declares itself in favor of "voluntary temperance and not prohibition." This is a familiar attitude on the part of many large and respectable groups of citizens. They hold that it is much better for individuals to keep sober of their own free will than to keep sober because they are arbitrarily deprived of liquor by the rest of society—even if this deprivation could be made effective, of which there is little indication as yet.

That, as a moral principle, is doubtless true. There may be, as many moralists insist, no moral progress whatever except through the free deliberate choice of the individual. When you choose your own course of action, you register your own will and judgment and shape your own character. A moral code imposed from without may really stunt growth. Character worth while is made by the development of a moral code from within. With drinks offered on all sides by bootleggers and friends, the individual may have as much chance now to develop his character by voluntary temperance as he had in the old saloon days.

WHY TEMPT CROOKS?

A national detective agency has issued a pamphlet of advice to the general public on the subject of keeping burglars away. Observation over a long period has demonstrated that the criminal's lawlessness is scarcely more deplorable than the public's stupidity and carelessness.

It would be very foolish to go through life suspecting everybody else of crookedness. It is equally foolish to neglect certain safeguards and precautions. There would be fewer payroll robberies if employes were paid by checks, or if money which had to be transported in large sums were adequately protected. There would be fewer house burglaries if householders were less careless about their valuables and used judgment when closing their homes for absence. A surprisingly large number of travelers hang out a "Nobody home" sign when they leave by allowing milk and newspapers to accumulate on the porch, pulling all the shades down so that the policeman on that beat cannot see what may go on inside the house. They then leave valuables at home instead of putting them in safety deposit vaults or reliable storage houses.

CHILDREN'S CAMPS.

On an early day in July last summer the Grand Central station in New York swarmed with young folks. There were thousands of them, all going to camp. There were special trains, and special cars on regular trains to accommodate the multitude. The only way to sort them out was to put up the camp banners and get the young people to take their places under the banners of their respective camps. The sight was doubtless more imposing in New York than elsewhere because New York is larger, and because it formed that night a central point for entraining for the eastern north woods and the sea. But all over the country boys and girls are getting ready for the regularly organized camps.

Some of these camps are very expensive places, but there are camps managed by the "Y," Boy Scouts, etc., where the expenses are very little, and in some "fresh air" charity camps, nothing. The great mass of children go to camps of moderate prices in between these extremes.

This is a normal reaction from city life. With schools closed, the city has no place for children. Their instinctive activities become mischief and menace. In the woods they learn the primitive processes now lost from the home. They get in touch with the big rhythms of the universe, and life loses its jazzy aspect.

Perhaps one day whole families will take to woods life again, making solid the strands of family life loosened and frayed by winter frets. Meantime, the good children's camp helps physical, moral and mental well-being.

DAILY LESSONS IN ENGLISH.

By W. L. Gordon.

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED: Don't say "their offer was a fake." Say "fraud," "deception," "misrepresentation."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED: San Jose (Calif.) Pronounce Jose as bo-sa, a as in "say," accent last syllable.

OFTEN MISSPELLED: trudge; no e after u.

SYNONYMS: silent, quiet, noiseless, taciturn, inaudible, speechless.

WORD STUDY: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: INVOLUNTARY, contrary to one's will or wish. "Why should we condemn him for this involuntary act?"

Molasses as Fertilizer

By the use of molasses as fertilizer the production of sugar cane has been increased nine tons to the acre on plantations on the Island of Mauritius.

An actor, says one of them in England, needs no brakes; and so far as an accident is concerned they are actually in the way.

A DOCTOR'S ADVICE ON CONSTIPATION.

When you read that a southern physician says "The last measure to be considered in the treatment of constipation is the administration of drugs", you begin to wonder what is coming over the medical profession.

And yet your family doctor will agree with the above. He suggests drugs to you because he is wise enough to know that some of his other suggestions to you will be absolutely disregarded.

Dr. L. C. Sanders of Memphis, Tenn., who made the above statement, says that "the treatment is first, the removal of the cause; second, the re-establishment of the normal intestinal movement by regulation of habits, diet, exercise and discontinuing medicines; third, if drugs are used the use of drugs that are non-irritating, chiefly liquid petrolatum."

Now the best advice he gives is the regulation of the diet and exercise. If fruits are used daily, the trouble is at once overcome in many cases. However, as the raw fruits have a tendency to irritate the skin, it is often advisable to stew them before using.

Exercise, of course, is the ideal cure for constipation, and in the experience of close observers, the failures are not one in hundreds where the individual is able and willing to do them regularly and properly.

Jogging, or a stationary run, of one hundred steps every morning, moves intestines up and down, and stimulates action.

This running also makes the lungs breathe more deeply, thus pressing against the liver and gall bladder, stirring them into action, and sending the bile down intestine, where it has the power to stimulate movement.

Then the bending exercises, rocking from side to side, with knees straight, twenty times each side, or lying on floor and raising legs almost to the right angle, ten to sixteen times, twice daily, will be all the exercise necessary.

Of course, there are those who are too ill or too old to take exercise and a little prescription used in a great many hospitals, is also mentioned by Dr. Sanders.

In consists of: Cooked prunes (seeded)), 1 pound; dried figs, 1 pound; dates (seeded), 1 pound; agaragar, 2 ounces; senna leaves, 2 ounces. The mixture is run through a meat chopper several times until it is thoroughly mixed, and then made into a cake, which is in turn cut into blocks an inch square. The dose is one block taken at bedtime.

This should be discontinued, and exercise substituted, when the patient is completely well again, because after all it should not be necessary to use fruits and senna leaves all the time.

Schoonmaker Buys Property

North Front Street Garage Property Purchased by Frank R. Schoonmaker Who Will Move His Auto Business There.

Frank R. Schoonmaker, local agent for the Elcar automobile, has bought of Marshall Roosa the garage property at 122-124 North Front street, and will move his business to his new location next week. Mr. Schoonmaker's purchase includes the equipment of the garage and store property as well as the automobile accessories, furnishings and stock of Mr. Roosa who has conducted a general garage business at that location for a number of years.

Mr. Schoonmaker has been engaged in the automobile business in this city for several years, operating the garage on Emerson street owned by William P. Glass. Increase in business compelled Mr. Schoonmaker to seek larger quarters.

The Roosa building which Mr. Schoonmaker has now purchased is a two and a half story building with a large garage addition at the rear. The entire property covers a space of approximately 50 by 180 feet. The front portion of the building is taken up in a large show room 40 by 65 feet and will be used by Mr. Schoonmaker for showing the Elcar line of cars.

The garage and machine shops are located at the rear and there is storage space for 30 or 35 cars. In addition to the sale of Elcar automobiles and conducting a general repair business, Mr. Schoonmaker has also been appointed factory representative for the Dunlop tire and will make a specialty of this tire.

In 1909 Mr. Roosa purchased the property, which was formerly the Gibson soap factory, and improved it, making it into a modern garage property, and since that time has occupied the premises and conducted a general garage and accessory business.

Mr. Schoonmaker has leased his residence property on Janet street to R. J. Harder and will occupy the apartment over the show rooms. The apartment contains several large rooms which Mr. Schoonmaker will alter to suit his needs before taking possession.

The transaction was consummated through Frank DuFlon, real estate broker of 83 Johnson avenue.

Life Study Basis of Old Greek Philosophy

The old Greek philosophers spent all their lives in the pursuit of knowledge concerning the riddle of life, discussing all its phases to the point of reductio ad absurdum. An example of the dilemma to which their reasoning led them is displayed in the following argument between Aristotle and Protagoras, says the Market for Exchange. The latter claimed that all is illusion and that there is no such thing as truth. Aristotle refuted him with the following dilemma: "Your proposition is true or false; if it is false, then you are answered; if true, then there is something true, and your proposition fails."

Another famous problem of the Stoics ran thus: "When a man says 'I lie,' does he lie or does he not? If he lies he speaks the truth; if he speaks the truth he lies." Exhaustive works were written on this, Chrysippus favoring the world with six tomes in an attempt to solve it. Philetus finally met an early death because of too long hours of study on various explanations.

Here's Richness

Mackerel, says a household editor, is richer than any other common fish. We were under the impression that the shad had the most bones.—Detroit News.

LINDBERGH, WEARY AND 'FED UP,' TRIES TO STEAL AWAY BY PLANE

"Fed up" with honors, receptions, and glory, Colonel Charles Lindbergh is chafing at the virtual captivity in which he is kept by admirers, and has made more than one attempt to escape into obscurity. This photo was taken when he stole away to Curtiss Field, New York, with the intention of flying to Washington and recovering his transocean plane. Weather conditions prevented the secret flight. "Kind as it all is, I can't stand it much longer," he told a reporter. In the photo with him is Richard Blythe, his personal representative.

LINDY TIRED, BUT STILL SMILES

Although Colonel Charles Lindbergh is frankly weary and in need of a rest, after a strenuous round of triumphal receptions, he can still smile, as this new and extraordinary photo of him shows. It was taken in New York as he was broadcasting. Put this in your albums; it's one of the best photos ever made of America's hero.

Bank Vaults Flooded to Outwit Burglars

Remarkable and elaborate defenses are included in the rebuilding of the Bank of England. It is possible, in case of invasion or other emergency, to flood the vaults from three points—one in the bank, one elsewhere in London, and one ten miles out of London.

The walls are constructed of reinforced concrete blocks, six feet long by two feet wide by two feet thick. The reinforcement is made from old steel-wire ships' cables, which are separated into single strands.

These steel wires are interlaced into panels six feet by two feet, and placed in the mold, one on top of the other, until the mold is full of steel-wire matting. Liquid concrete is then poured in the mold, and the whole is shaken to work the concrete into every crack and corner.

All these concrete blocks have "keys" at each end to interlock them when in position. There are also semicircular grooves at the ends of the blocks. Two blocks together form a circular groove up and down which pass electric wires. Any attempt to displace a block breaks these wires and an alarm is immediately sounded.

Haughty Men

When a man is so stiff-necked that he can't look around for a job he needs the discipline of adversity.

Fatal Strain

A visitor being shown through an English insane asylum noticed one of the inmates, an American who was jabbering senselessly and covering his cell with diagrams.

"What a pathetic case," he remarked.

"Yes," replied the superintendent. "He tried to explain to some Englishmen what waffles were."

Mechanical Term

The term "planetary" in mechanics refers to "pertaining to an epicyclic train of gear wheels, especially one constituting an automobile transmission gear."

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE SUN'S WORK

"Most people cannot see anything very attractive about mud—although I do know a little boy, and a little girl, for that matter, who are pretty fond of mud puddles!" began Daddy.

Nick and Nancy laughed very heartily, for they knew perfectly well that Daddy meant them!

"There had been so much mud," continued Daddy, "from all the storms and all the rain that the big people were grumbling about it.

"They said it was horrid for driving, horrid for walking, horrid for riding in big automobiles, and very, very bad for beautiful shoes.

"The fairies heard all this when the big people didn't know the fairies were listening.

"The fairies could not help laughing about the mud hurting the beautiful shoes of the big people.

"You see, the fairies can alight with their wings and fly just over the mud if they like.

"'We'll have a mud palace,' said one little fairy. 'A real castle with courtyards, and secret passages, and a haunted room, and there will be beautiful court ladies and court gentlemen.'

Made Out of Mud.

"All of the fairies at once began to work. There was plenty of mud, and it molded into the castle so quickly and so easily.

"The court ladies and court gentlemen were made out of mud, too.

"Now, maybe you don't think that sounds very like court ladies and court gentlemen—to be made of mud, but when the fairies do any work it is sure to be fine.

"These court ladies and court gentlemen were very grand and impressive looking.

"They wore crowns of pebbles which fitted around their mud heads so perfectly.

"Soon they looked as if they were made of something far lighter and gayer than mud.

"But that was Mr. Sun's work. He came out to see what the fairies were up to, and he said to them:

"'Dear me, little fairies, you'll never give an old fellow like me a holiday.

"'Here, I was, going off to visit some of my friends. I didn't mind at all what the big people were saying about the rain and the mud.

"'I knew the rain needed a trip to earth. But what was more, I was looking forward to a good change.

"'Now you come along and enjoy the mud just as much as you do the dry earth when I've been shining hard. It has just made me mad, so I've come out to stay for awhile.

"'Besides, I've always got to be seeing what you are doing. Of all the ideas in the world, though, this is the funniest one!

"'A mud palace! Ha! Ha!'

"'Dear Mr. Sun, you mustn't be hurt because we love the rain and the mud that makes such a lovely castle for us.

"'We love you, too, but we love everything, you know, and are always happy.'

"Later in the day, the mud began to go away, and the sun heard people saying how nice it did seem to see the horrid old mud disappearing.

"Quietly to himself he said:

"'Well, if it hadn't been for the fairies who are happy all the time, I wouldn't have come out.

"'So, again, big people, it's the little fairies you should really thank!'"

Parked Away From Mother

Mother took her four-year-old son, Willie, to spend the week-end with his grandmother, as his grandfather had to leave the city for a few days.

It was the child's first time away from his mother.

When grandfather returned home, Willie met him with these words: "Hello, grandpa, I've been parked here, away from mother, for days."

Innocence

She was a bright little thing, aged four, when her mother presented her with twin brothers, and at last she was allowed to see the new babies.

Silently she inspected them as they lay in their cots. Then she looked in a puzzled way at her mother, and asked: "Mummy, was I two when I was a baby?"

After reading a newspaper these days one thinks that perhaps the reason why so many girls go husband hunting is merely so they can be in at the kill.

"Sir," said the astonished landlady to the guest who had passed his cup for the seventh time, "you must be very fond of coffee."

"Yes, madam, I am," he replied, "or I should never have drunk so much water to get a little."

"Anything new in your neighborhood?" we asked a farmer.

"Yes, the whole neighborhood is stirred up," he replied.

"What is the cause?" we asked eagerly.

"Ploughing," answered the farmer.

Today is a good day—if you make it so.

"Can we stay civilized?" asked a college president. Maybe we can if we can get that way.

LYONSVILLE.

Lyonsville, June 16.—The Ladies' Aid Society will hold an ice cream social on the Lyonsville Church grounds Saturday evening, June 18. Menu: Homemade ice cream and cake. Everyone is invited to attend.

The Misses Mildred Burley and Leona Roosa were soliciting for the ice cream social on Wednesday.

A number of pupils from this place are taking Regents' examinations at Accord.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Phoebe A. Kelder in their bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. George Young spent Sunday in this place.

Miss Leona Roosa has returned to her home in this place for the summer vacation.

Eggciting News

A scientist contends that those 70-odd-year-old dinosaur eggs, recently discovered by Roy Chapman Andrews, aren't really old when one considers the staggering age of the universe. Perhaps the Museum of Natural History ought to label them Fresh Laid Dinosaur Eggs.—Terre and Fireside.

Gasoline Now 11c

A welcome announcement is the fact that gasoline may now cost only 11c. It is estimated that this reduction would effect a saving of millions of dollars for the American Motorists. This amazing reduction is brought about by a mysterious little device that is easily installed on any car in a few minutes' time. E. Oliver, 1091-2111W Wilmehago St., Milwaukee, Wisc., is so proud of this invention that for a limited time he is offering the device free to auto owners who will help introduce it. He also needs men everywhere and offers profits of $75 to $150 a week to men who will handle local business. Write him at once for his free sample offer and money making proposition.—Advertisement.

KRUMVILLE.

Krumville, June 16.—On Sunday, June 19, a representative from the Anti-Saloon League will speak in the Tongore M. E. Church at 11 o'clock, standard time.

Tuesday Mr. Rice, the pastor, went to Carmel to attend summer school.

There will be a strawberry-ice cream social in the near future at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand Bishop for the benefit of the Tongore M. E. Church.

Sunday, June 26, will be observed as Children's Day. The children are practicing their parts faithfully and it is hoped there will be a good congregation to see their exercises, which will start at 11 o'clock, standard time.

Mrs. O. Rice is spending a few days with her parents at Scranton, Pa.

ONE WASHER does the COMPLETE JOB!

After you buy a washing machine you don't want to invest more money in tubs, pail or plumbing connections.

The difference between the Wringerless
SAVAGE
with its Spin-Rinse. Spin-Dry

and wringer types is that the Savage comes complete for the complete wash day task—it washes, blues, rinses and dries in its own tub—it fills through its own hose, direct from the faucet—and empties by means of its own automatic pump ejector.

Your Savage does all the work for you—the Last Hard Half—rinsing and drying—as well as the easier half—washing and bluing.

And the Complete Savage costs no more than washers that do not do the Last Hard Half!

Aman Will Contest Settled in Court

A settlement was made in the contest which was scheduled for trial before County Judge Joseph M. Fowler in county court Wednesday in the matter of the proving of the last will and testament of the late Louise Aman. D. W. Ostrander of Clintondale appeared for proponent. Lydia Wygant, and Joseph Slensby and John W. Eckert appeared for the contestant. The contestant, Edna Young, withdrew on consideration the executrix agreed to pay to contestant the sum of $1,000, $500 to be paid to the contestant and $500 to be paid as counsel fees, the sum of $500 to be in place of any claim as heir at law, next of kin, creditor or otherwise.

The stipulation was made in open court and the matter was referred to the surrogate for further action and decree of that court.

Yes, Neuralgia Can Be Relieved

Simpler, Better Method

Those who have tried all the old, time-honored ways of getting some relief from the agonies of neuralgia, will welcome with joy this new, simple, easy-to-follow treatment. It consists merely of taking small, easily-swallowed tablets according to directions. Just ask your druggist for Bi-AN Tablets, and know for yourself what relief they give to suffering. All druggists.

Bigger Poultry Profits

They depend, first of all, on using the right incubators and brooders—on hatching more eggs and raising more chicks into good layers and the kind of market birds that bring high prices.

That's why most successful poultry raisers, agricultural colleges and county agents will recommend Buckeye Incubators and Brooders if you ask their advice.

Ask us for the new Buckeye Catalog—a most complete and practical book on poultry raising. Tells how to feed, cull, get more eggs in winter and market for higher prices.

JUST A BURGHER OF BERLIN NOW

Frederick William Hohenzollern, former Crown Prince of the Empire, attracts little attention when he appears in the German capital; and he prefers the role of simple burgher of Berlin. Latest photo of the ex-Prince shows him in the yard of the modest dwelling he occupies in the surburbs of Berlin.

Lime has been used for plaster, mortar and stucco for at least 4,000 years, excavations in the island of Crete disclose.

Kills 10-Foot Shark in Hand-to-Fin Battle

Wainu, New Zealand.—Charles Ferris of this city is the hero of a hand-to-hand fight with four sharks, in which "Old Kruger," who had been terrorizing bathers for years, was killed.

"Old Kruger" and other sharks had been coming close to the beach and Ferris determined to put an end to the menace. With pieces of stingaree in a bag around his neck for bait he waded into the surf, carrying a harpoon to which a rope was attached.

Ferris threw bits of stingaree ahead of him and four sharks, including "Old Kruger," fought for them. When Ferris got among the big fish he thrust a harpoon into "Old Kruger" and a group on the beach hauled him ashore.

The big fish weighed 400 pounds and was ten feet long.

Is Your Turn Next?

Recently one of our customers had a fire. He had just time to flee from the house for his life. Everything was destroyed but his valuable papers. They were in a safe deposit box in this bank.

This man knows from experience that it pays to have a safe deposit box.

Boxes: $3.00 a year.

Only one key will open your box, and that key is in your possession.

Knew it could be made. . . . It's here!
You'll welcome it—

a non-evaporating motor oil for summer

ATLANTIC

PARAFFINE BASE

MOTOR OIL

"Heavy"

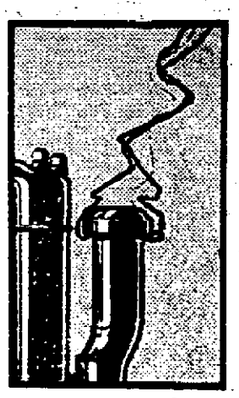
"GIVE us an extra-bodied lubricant that won't change its character under high heat, and we'll build motors that won't need overhauling in years," has long been the voice of the automotive industry.

They've found the right metals for cylinders, pistons, shafts, connecting rods and bearings. They've brought the mechanical operation of automobile engines to a marvelously high state of efficiency. Only a really long-lasting oil remained to be perfected—an oil with the stamina to resist high motor heat and torrid summer temperatures.

It's here!—Atlantic Paraffine Base "Heavy" . . . a full-bodied oil—heavier than "medium" but as free-flowing. Not only that. Evaporation has been conquered. (Evaporation wastes oil and changes its character.) Study the remarkable evaporation test at the right.

You see now why there are more miles per quart in Atlantic "Heavy." Try it. Atlantic Paraffine Base "Heavy" is absolutely correct for summer use in most cars and trucks—as automotive lubrication charts show.

Sold wherever you see the Atlantic red-white-and-blue sign.



Evaporation Test

At 760° Fahrenheit (more than three and one-half times the temperature of boiling water) Atlantic "Heavy," under repeated tests, showed an evaporation loss of less than 1%.

Twelve other representative "heavy" oils, under identically the same tests, showed evaporation losses ranging up to 42%.

—that vivid mark of matchless Hudson power

A thrill, never to be forgotten, and a zest that familarity cannot dull, are in store for you when you take your first ride in the Hudson Super-Six.

The swift ease with which it is under way is but one expression of the virile, stirring power that marks it full performance range. And this smoothness and freedom from exertion is the exclusive characteristic of the Super-Six principle.

With performance beyond any heretofore known, Hudson gives the real economy of reliability, long life and freedom from repair, as well as moderate operation cost.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Friday, June 17.

Songs of the sea may be enjoyed by the radio audiences of WJZ and the Blue Network when the Hero, Heroine and Musicmakers embark on the good ship "Life on the Ocean Wave" for a vocal and instrumental tour of the Southern seas. WJZ will also feature the concert by the Arion Male Chorus. The Goldman Band will play before the microphone of WNYC on Friday nights during the summer months. Other programs of martial music has been arranged by the Baltimore Municipal Band through WBAL and the Shrine Band and chanters through WFG. The New England specialty will be another of the popular musicals as played by the Suffolk Symphony Orchestra and the DX honors will be given to the concert by a yodeler and a ukulele choir which will be broadcast by WFAA.

Wave lengths in meters on left of station title, kilocycles on the right. Times are Eastern Daylight Saving and Eastern Standard. Black type indicates best features.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT STONE RIDGE CHURCH

Stone Ridge, June 16.—"Should I Mind My Own Business," will be the subject upon which the Rev. Jay Holmes Smith, pastor of the Stone Ridge M. E. Church, will preach Sunday, June 19, at 11 o'clock. The feature of the Sunday school hour will be an address by Miss Josephine Hasbrouck on the subject of the early women missionaries to India. The topic of the evening sermon at 7:30 will be "The Dynamite of God." There will be special anthem and solo music by the choir.

On Thursday evening a goodly number of the Builders' Class of the Stone Ridge M. E. Church with their families enjoyed a covered-dish supper and entertainment in the church parlors. After the delicious menu was served the second church training night services were held. The meeting was divided into three periods, a singing school, a school of prayer and a Bible school.

Ask Record of Kansans Who Fought in 1776

Topeka, Kan.—Some Kansans apparently believe that Kansas, which entered the Union in 1861, was one of the original 13 states.

Oddly enough, those who have such a confused notion of American history are not unschooled immigrants. Persons desiring to prove their ancestry entitles them to membership in the national societies of descendants of Revolutionary war soldiers have written to the adjutant general of the Kansas National guard for the military records of their forefathers.

A jurist and the wife of a high school principal are among those who have suggested that their ancestors probably followed the colors of Kansas regiments in 1776.

Cottekill Church Services.

"The Meanest Man in Cottekill" will be the subject of the sermon to be preached by the Rev. Mr. Smith at the Sunday afternoon service at 2:30 in the Cottekill M. E. Church. Mr and Mrs. Smith will sing "Marvelous Grace."

75, IS TRICKED INTO WEDDING 73, MAN CLAIMS

Wanted Helpmate—Found Woman Feeble and Considerable of a Burden.

Chicago.—Abraham Mayer, seventy-five years old, is dissatisfied with his bride, Dora, who is seventy-three or older, according to a bill he filed in Superior court asking annulment of his marriage. They were wed last November 24.

Mayer, who is a suspender salesman of Milwaukee, alleges that he was tricked into the marriage by misrepresentation of his fiancee and her relatives. He was told, he says, that she was robust and well able to care for him as he grows older. But he learned in two days of married life, according to the bill, that she was feeble and more of a burden than a helpmate.

Says Age Was Misrepresented.

Another misrepresentation alleged is in regard to Mrs. Mayer's age. The husband says she admitted being seventy-three, but that he believes her to be much older.

Their brief honeymoon was not a happy one, according to the petition. After their wedding, at the home of her daughter on the South side, Mayer took the bride to his home in Milwaukee, he says. On getting off the train he discovered for the first time that his bride was not enjoying the best of health, he relates. The excitement affected her heart, according to the bill, and he had to carry her from the train to a taxicab.

Husband Tells of Her Injuries.

The next morning she fell to the floor and injured her hip, Mayer says. He sent her back to her daughter in Chicago.

Two days later he came to visit her. She was ill, but insisted on getting up to receive her husband. She fell and broke a leg, the bill states.

Mrs. Mayer is still in a Chicago hospital, according to Attorney Henry M. Seligman, who filed the suit, while Mr. Mayer is back in Milwaukee, cooking his own meals and sweeping his own floors.

Dog, Mourning for Dead Master, Won't Be Consoled

Cambridge, Ohio.—Faithful to his master even beyond death. That sums up the story of Nick, a shepherd dog.

While his master was being buried Nick had to be locked in a room at the undertaking establishment here. He whined his plea that he be permitted to accompany his master's body, but to no avail.

Since then Nick has remained at the morgue. He is disconsolate and eats or drinks scarcely enough to keep himself alive. He spends all his time guarding his dead master's coat and refuses to let it be removed from his vigilant eyes.

Nick's master, Harry L. Ebert, lived alone, with the dog as his sole companion. After Ebert's wife got a divorce and the custody of their young son, Ebert in a fit of despondency shot himself to death.

The dog was found guarding his master's body. When it was removed to the morgue Nick followed and has been there ever since.

Nick at present is a ward of Probate court. Ebert in his will stipulated that a kind guardian be appointed for the dog, for which Ebert refused an offer of $300.

Robbed, He Gives Fire Alarm, Goes to Jail

Detroit, Mich.—A number of fire trucks and several very sleepy firemen pulled up in front of a Detroit firebox in response to an alarm from that corner at three in the morning and found no fire, but a man clinging desperately to the telegraph post.

"Where's the fire?" the firemen called.

"No fire, but I needed help and I couldn't find a telephone," was the cheerful answer. "A couple of men just robbed me of $60 and the cops weren't around, so I thought firemen would do as well."

The firemen, indignant and cold, held the man until police arrived. He spent the rest of the night in jail on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Woman's Club will be held July 20. Plattekill orchestra will furnish music.

Mrs. Charles Shay was in Newburgh on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nowell and children attended the Children's Day exercises at the Walden Reformed Church last Sunday morning.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new state road through this place. The concrete is laid on one side up to the New Hurley Church and the machinery has been moved. They are now working on the other side from the Wallkill end.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell and son spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Whitmore and Miss Myra Powell at Plattekill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tears of Poughkeepsie were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Birch.

Mrs. Isaac Sutton and daughter and granddaughter, Winifred Sutton, spent Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McKinstry.

A business meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Marcus Birch on Tuesday afternoon, June 21. A good attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hoornbeck of Blue Hill were in town Saturday.

The school closed Friday. The teachers gave the children a picnic which they all seemed to enjoy. It is expected the same teachers, Miss Curry and Miss Moore, will teach the school the coming year.

Charles H. Ferber is in a serious condition. He expects to go to Kansas City this week to consult a physician. All sincerely hope for his speedy recovery.

Road Superintendent, Eli Schoonmaker, has a number of men employed building a stone road from Eureka to Sundown.

Mrs. Mary Curry's health is very poor.

John Amiber is making some improvements to his barn. He expects to have concrete stables put in as soon as Mr. Aldrich is able to complete the job. Mr. Aldrich is ill, which all are sorry to hear.

OLIVEREA.

Oliverea, June 16.—The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Charles T. Andrews Thursday, June 9.

Lawrence Dutcher has rented the Slide Mountain house to parties from New York city.

Edward Rowe, commissioner of highways, made an inspection of the road leading from Big Indian to Claryville and reports that in some places it is still rough.

Floyd Ecory and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Bailey on Sunday.

James Fowle and family called on Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Knight on Sunday.

Burr Knight and family attended services here on Sunday afternoon.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, by the Grace of God, Free and Independent.

To—

John Rothfuss; George Pardy; Estelle Brewlinger; Raymond Pardy; Belle Van De Bark; Ethel Norman; Martha Wright; Frank T. Pardy; James W. Pardy; and Minnie Bates.

YOU AND EACH OF YOU are hereby cited to show cause, at a Surrogate's Court to be held in and for the County of Ulster at the Surrogate's office in the City of Kingston, in said County, on the 20th day of June next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why the last Will and Testament of James E. Robbins, late of the Town of Olive, Ulster County, deceased, presented to said Surrogate's Court, should not be admitted to probate and recorded as a Will of real and personal estate, in pursuance of the statute, on the petition of John G. Van Etten, of the City of Kingston, the Executor named therein.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused the seal of said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness Hon. George E. Kaufman, Surrogate of our said County, at the City of Kingston, the 20th day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven.

C. E. DUFFENBAK,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By the Associated Press.)

Despite Jack McGraw's desperate effort to check the descent by trades, the New York Giants today were farther than ever behind the three western teams which have obtained a monopoly on the top shelves of the National League.

While the Giants, the only eastern club in the first division, were losing their sixth straight yesterday, the Pirates, Cubs and Cards—who lead the league in that order—were fattening their averages.

Citizens of St. Louis gave Rogers Hornsby the town when he returned there with his new team, the Giants. But one thing they did not give him—victory. Neither he nor his Giant mates were able to hit the pitching of Jess Haines, who gave but two singles for a 5-0 shutout and one of the finest hurling performances turned in this season. Jackson and Bush scratched the only safeties he allowed.

New York was one of three eastern National League teams which fell in the general rout.

The Chicago Cubs' eleventh straight win was scored at the expense of the Phillies, 12 to 5. While Cub bats pounded 18 hits off two Philly hurlers, Charley Root held the foe in hand for his eleventh personal victory of the year.

Luckily for the Pirates, who are only about a game ahead of the Cubs, they too beat down an invading foe. A tight pitching grip by Carmen Hill held the Boston Braves harmless in the pinches for a 7 to 4 decision. Eddie Farrell, late of the Giants, made two hits for the Braves in five chances, which is hitting just .400.

On the steam of the dazzler, Vance, the Brooklyn Robins downed the Cincinnati Reds to 2 to 1. In Rixey, of the Reds, Vance met a worthy foe who allowed but four hits in eight innings and Nehf granted none for the remaining frame, but the rejuvenated Robins backed their pitcher perfectly in the field. At the start of the season the entire length of the league separated Giants and Robins. Now they are side by side with the Robins in fifth place not far behind their rivals from across the river. They have been faring better in the west.

The White Sox 6 to 4 victory over the Athletics yesterday was the first game in American League in two days, because of rain. It was the 12th victory in 14 starts this season for Ted Lyons who won his own ball game with a triple in the eighth which broke a 4-4 deadlock and scored the winning runs.

Has Hands the Size of Hams

Try it—it's easy—for Joe Brown, Rookie right hander obtained from Oklahoma City by the Chicago White Sox. Being equipped with hands the size of hams, he can do many unusual things with baseballs. The picture shows him grasping seven league balls in his good right mitt at the same time.

BASEBALL NOTES

Babe Ruth was one pitcher who could always do a pretty fair job of hitting.

Even in the League of Nations there is the same old tendency to crab at the umpires.

The Tigers have a good looking team, with a lot of hitting strength, but they haven't the pitching.

Superstitious fans appealed to the directors of the Kinston (N. C.) baseball club to bar members of the team from playing music.

The struggle for the shortstop position on the Chicago American team is apparently entirely settled in favor of Hunnefield over Peckinpaugh.

After an outfielder has mastered the art of hanging on to the ball when making a shoestring catch is time enough to learn somersaults.

During 1917 Harry Krause pitched 58 games for the Oakland club in the Pacific Coast league, his earned run average being 2.98 per game.

Albert Hildebrand, who is to receive a tryout with the Mission club of the Pacific Coast league, is a son of George Hildebrand, famous American league umpire.

Joe Boley, Athletics' shortstop, has been on the sidelines with a slightly fractured finger. The injury came to the former Baltimore star when he collided with Sammy Hale.

* * *

Three players, Ed Konetchy, Chick Howard and Red Bird, were removed from the Fort Worth baseball club pay roll to reduce the Cat roster to the Texas league player limit.

Baseball fans of Salisbury, Md., raised a fund of $300 by popular subscription to buy the release of a "prodigal son." Pitcher Jimmy Mahady, from the Fort Smith club of the Western association, so he could return to the local team.

* * *

Joe Harris, former American leaguer, likes to play on the Polo grounds where he can fatten his batting average. In making his first appearance there in a Pirate uniform, Joe slammed out four hits and drew a base on balls.

* * *

Larry Doyle, once star second baseman of the Giants, has rejoined John McGraw as sort of a general utility aide. He will not don a uniform for the present, but will be sort of a personal secretary, or something, to the veteran manager. John Joseph always finds a place for the old-timers who have been loyal to him.

First Freak Occurrence of 1927 Baseball Season

None of the Atlanta Crackers lay any claims to mathematical ability and for that reason none of them has attempted to explain one of the season's first escapes from Pandora's box of baseball freaks.

It happened thuswise. Bill Calkins, the outfielder, was at bat with Alvarez, the Cuban twirler, facing him. Walter Gilbert was at third, where he is supposed to be.

Calkins lambasted a liner through the box with considerable gusto. Alvarez apparently elected to let it hit him, which was what happened. The spheroid smacked the Cubanola pitcher right soundly on the knee, shied off toward Gilbert who pranced in a couple of steps and picked it out of the air. Calkins was pounding toward first, and so Walter hurled it to Rod at first, but that wasn't necessary at all, for Calkins was out when Gilbert caught the one-cushion bank off Alvarez' knee. Alvarez, strangely enough, was not hurt enough to cause a limp.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE ROPED ARENA LAST NIGHT.

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—Sammy Baker, Wilfred Field, N. Y., scored a technical K. O. over Ace Hudkins, Nebraska, 7 rounds. Sid Terris, New York, knocked out Ruby Goldstein, New York, 1 round. Billy Wallace, Cleveland, defeated Billy Petrolle, Fargo, N. D., 10 rounds. Jackie Deroche beat Nick Quagarilla, 8 rounds. Louis Kid Kaplan, Meriden, Conn., defeated Jackie Fields, California, 10 rounds.

Sammy Baker and Sid Terris Win

Baker Wins Over Ace Hudkins on Technical Knockout In Seventh—Terris Kayos Goldstein In The First.

New York, June 16 (AP).—Two fights of the kind every boxing fan dreams of but seldom sees go down in the annals of the ring as the fruit of a single evening.

In battles that were vicious in their fistic sincerity, Sergeant Sammy Baker stopped Ace Hudkins and Sid Terris knocked out Ruby Goldstein at the Polo Grounds last night. Forty thousand fans whose admission money went to help the cause of the Catholic Boy's Clubs looked on and howled and whooped. Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was at the ringside as guest of Mayor Walker.

The victory for the soldier-aviator-boxer, Baker, was a technical knockout in the seventh. Terris won by a plain, old fashioned knockout in the first, after he had been downed for a count of nine.

More than ever before in his ring career Hudkins wanted to win that fight. He and Lindbergh had known each other in Lincoln, Neb., back when "Lindy" was learning to fly and Ace to fight. But the flying Sergeant from Mitchell Field was too much for the Ace despite his high hopes and ambitions.

Failing his foeman fully with the claw-like blows that have given him his name of "Wild Cat" Hudkins fought for all he was worth. Sharp-shooting beat him, although it could not drop him.

The lightweight battle between New York's two ghetto boys was even more sensational.

At the bell Goldstein rushed from his corner, high flying youth personified, and a moment later smashed a right to the chin. Down went Terris, and the referee tolled the count of nine. Then slowly Terris got to his feet again and from the resin at his heels he brought up a crushing right hand blow that landed flush on the eager, quivering youngster's chin and knocked him out. The bout was 13 seconds less than two minutes old when the referee tolled the final count.

REDEEMERS DROP GAME TO PRESBYTERIANS.

The Presbyterians, of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday School League gave the Redeemers of the same organization, a trouncing at the Athletic Field Wednesday evening, 12-8. The Presbyterians got off to a fine start and registered six runs in the opening stanza. Vic Spalt's slants proved no puzzle to the uptown boys who solved him in the first and in the second came within three of the same number of runs corralled in the opening frame. The Presbyterians got two in the fourth and one in the final fifth inning. The Redeemers were unable to score until the second when four of their men crossed the platter. They registered another in the third and three in the fifth.

Score by innings:

Presbyterians .....6 3 0 2 1—12
Redeemers .....0 4 1 0 3— 8

Batteries: Presbyterians—Smith and Coutant; Redeemers—Spalt and Hotaling.

GIRL IN RECORD JUMP

Eleanor Eggs, junior in a Paterson, N. J., high school, now holds the world's running broad jump for women. She hurtled herself 17 feet flat, or 6½ inches more than the previous mark.

Clermonts Take Two More.

The Clermont A. C. defeated the Canfield Supply Co. nine Monday at Hasbrouck Park, 16-5. On Tuesday they also beat the Costello All-Stars, 4-2. Teams wishing games with the Clermonts should communicate with J. Houghtaling, 175 Hasbrouck avenue, or 'phone 222-M.

Inter-Church League.

The teams of the Inter-Church Horse Shoe Pitching League to meet on Friday night will be St. James A vs. St. James B; Presbyterian A vs. Presbyterian B; Albany Avenue Baptist vs. Trinity and Rondout Presbyterian vs. Fair Street Reformed.

Game Tonight at Athletic Field

This evening at 6:15 on the Athletic Field the Apollo-Universal and the U. & D. Cornell teams of the Industrial League will meet. Both aggregations are in shape for the contest. Colvin and Merritt regular battery men will probably take their regular places for the Apollo-Universal while Hotaling and Smedes are expected to perform on the mound, and behind the plate, respectively, for the U. & D.-Cornell team.

HIGHBINDERS TO MEET THE RINKY DINKS.

The fast game of baseball is expected to be played at Block Park this evening when the Highbinders of the Seventh Ward and the Rinky Dinks will battle on the Abeel street diamond in an endeavor to surpass the brand of ball exhibited by the Old-Timers' League.

The Highbinders are well known but the Rinky Dinks under the captainship of Constantine Borho have yet to make their reputation in baseball ward, which is the seventh. A crowd is expected to witness the game.

On Tuesday, June 21, the Highbinders will be met by the Hilgebrant Dry Dock All Stars and on the following Thursday the Cornell A. C. will do battle with the veterans.

All-Stars Have Two Hard Games

After trouncing the Beckwith Cleaners of Poughkeepsie Sunday, the All-Stars will play the Hudson River State Hospital Club Saturday. This club is somewhat stronger than the Beckwith outfit. Such men as Phelan, McDermott, Dahn, Russell, Nuhn and Whalen and several other well known men will make the local club work hard to make it six straight.

Sunday the locals will take a trip to Montgomery, which boasts of a very good baseball club. Manager McCardle received word Wednesday that the All-Stars had better bring their best or they will come back losers.

Last Sunday the Montgomery Club defeated the fast American Legion Club of Newburgh by an 18-6 score. This means the locals will have to step.

Dewey Van Buren will twirl against the hospital club at Poughkeepsie Saturday, and either Cragan or Williams will work against the Montgomery Club in Sunday's tilt.

Twin Brothers Dual Captains

Donald and Douglas Hyde, Appleton, Wis., twins, are both track stars so they've been elected joint captains of the team at Lawrence College for 1928. They participate in the same events and finish closely together, making it hard for the judges.

What Moles Eat

Common garden moles live chiefly on earth-worms, grubs and various insects. Sometimes they eat a limited amount of vegetable matter, but most of the damage to garden truck blamed on moles is the work of various species of mice w' follow the mole runways.

Word from the Greek

Hydrophobia, a word derived from the Greek, means fear of water, and fear of water is a symptom of the disease to which dogs are subject and which the bite of the diseased dog will transmit to the bitten animal or human being. The name of the disease is rabies.

LEIBHARDT.

Leibhardt, June 16.—A rally day and anniversary service will be held in the Leibhardt M. E. Church on Sunday afternoon, June 19, at 2:30 o'clock, standard time. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Lemuel Davis of Kripplebush. All neighbors and friends are cordially invited to attend. Special music and singing are being arranged by the choir.

Sunday school will be held as usual on Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. Calvin B. Davis and Mrs. Ralph Hornbeck have recently been soliciting in the neighborhood for funds toward painting the church. They had good success. About $60 was given.

Children's Day services will be observed in the M. E. Church Sunday evening, June 26.

Mrs. Simon Hornbeck and son, Ernest, of Whitfield were guests at the home of Mrs. Alex Brown last Thursday.

Several from this place attended the funeral of Mrs. Matin Jollie at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Van Etten, at Pataukunk last Friday.

Those from this place who attended the social at Tabasco last Thursday night reported a good time.

The two socials held in the school house on Saturday evening, May 28, and June 11, were very successful and nearly $24 was cleared from the sale of refreshments.

Mrs. Agnes Brown pleasantly entertained a company of friends over the week end. Guests and callers were from New York city, Greenwich, Conn., The Vly, Palentown and Middletown.

Mrs. Eugene Quick is slowly recovering under the treatment of Dr. Bush at Atwood.

Meade Brown of Syracuse University is spending his summer vacation at the College of Forestry Camp at Cranberry Lake, N. Y.

Mrs. Christina Gray and son, Jacob, entertained relatives from Walden over the week end.

Oatis Miller of Lake Mohonk spent a couple of days in this place last week.

Miss Grace Hornbeck has been enjoying a few days' vacation with her sister, Mrs. Louis Hoff, at Napanoch.

Jacob Hornbeck and Ernest Markle of Rochester Center called on Barber Brown on Sunday.

Those who listened in on the radio at the home of Mrs. Agnes Brown on Monday heard very plainly the reception that was given to Charles Lindbergh when he arrived in New York.

Roy Terwilliger of Newburgh enjoyed an auto trip to this place last Saturday afternoon and called at the Hornbeck home.

Many relatives and friends are pleased to know that Mrs. Roy Terwilliger is nicely improving from her recent illness.

The Misses Ethel and Louella Hornbeck of Lake Mohonk were week-end guests at their home in this place.

Getting Things Straight

The sentence: "All men are born free and equal" is a quotation from the constitution of Massachusetts which was framed in 1779. The complete sentence says: "All men are born free and equal, and have certain natural, essential, and unalienable rights." Many people erroneously suppose the phrase "born free and equal" occurs in the Declaration of Independence. That document says "all men are created equal."—Exchange.

Students' Work On Exhibition

Interesting Display of Woodworking In Rose & Gorman's Window Shows Result of Practical Training at High School.

A most interesting display of woodworking is shown in one of the large show windows of the Rose & Gorman department store. This exhibit, which will remain in the show window until after Saturday, is the work of the first and second year woodworking students of the Kingston High School and executed under the direction of E. E. Mack, instructor of woodworking at the high school.

The exhibit consists of a variety of articles of furniture in genuine mahogany and mahogany finish, such as costumers, floor lamps, book-racks, white enamel bath-room cabinet and other articles.

Of especial interest is a table of solid African mahogany. The lumber was purchased in the rough in the market in New York city and after the student who made the table had made working drawings and blue-prints, which is customary of all projects, the lumber was machined from the rough into various parts by machine and by hand, joints were cut, parts assembled and then the several steps in finishing were carefully handled. The skill with which the work was done by this particular student has resulted in a davenport table which will rank with the best cabinet maker's art and the total cost to the student was less than $15. The table is patterned after a table which sells on Fifth avenue for $145.

In addition to the various items in genuine mahogany and mahogany finish, there are on display two of sixteen adjustable height drafting tables and a 48 drawer wall cabinet, all of which will be used in the drafting department of the high school by the students beginning next year. These 16 drafting tables were, like all other things, made from the rough lumber by the students in second and fourth term woodworking. By the construction of the tables and cabinet by the students the city has made a saving of over $200, and the students have at the same time had actual construction practice of a profitable nature.

The woodworking classes are indebted to the firm of Rose & Gorman for the use of the large show window for this public exhibit of their work. The exhibit is well worth a careful examination.

Very Definite Limit to His Consideration

Davy McDonald and his wife Molly lived on an abandoned lumber tract in Texas in a small comfortable cottage. Their home was several miles from the nearest neighbor. They worked a small truck farm and kept a number of cows, pigs and many chickens.

Like many persons who live much by themselves and have never learned to make companions of books, they always retired very early in the evening and rose correspondingly early in the morning. Davy found the nights long and tiresome and was glad of an excuse to rise even before the proverbial lark. He was much like the man referred to by John G. Saxe in "Early Rising":

"Who cannot keep his precious head
Upon his pillow until it's fairly light."

In speaking to a fisherman who was spending a few days with him, Davy once said:

"I like to get up in the morning: 'long about half-past three or four o'clock I wake up and can't go to sleep again; so I get up and go out in the barnyard and look at the pigs and cows and feed the chickens and putter round till breakfast is ready. Now, the old woman is jest the other way: she never wants to get up, and I never wake her. I let her sleep jest as long as she wants to."

Now, Davy had the reputation of being not overkind to or considerate of his wife, and his visitor was not a little surprised at this expression of conjugal solicitude.

"Ha, Davy, good for you," he said to himself. "I did not know that you were so thoughtful of your wife."

"Yes," resumed Davy, "I never call her or wake her up; as long as she has my breakfast on the table by six o'clock, I let her sleep jest as late as she wants to."—Youth's Companion.

To Be Elaborate Resort

One of the most-visited places in France is the Mont Saint Michel with its beautiful building on a rock island off the coast of Brittany, says the Paris correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor. It is estimated that every year it is seen by 400,000 persons. Hitherto the arrangements for their reception have been of a somewhat primitive character, but it is with mingled feelings that one learns of the intention of the authorities to make a fashionable beach above the coast facing the island.

The committee is headed by M. Gromier, the chief architect of historical monuments of Versailles. The scheme calls for a marine walk about fifteen yards wide; a large hotel in Anglo-Norman style, and a casino with gardens, together with house, automobile and boat service to the beauty spot. About $3,000,000 francs are to be spent on this project.

Offspring of Velocipede

The bicycle is a modification of the velocipede, which was introduced into England in 1818 and into the United States in 1819. Baron von Drais is referred to as "the Father of the Bicycle." In 1816 he invented a velocipede to assist him in performing his duties as chief forester to the duke of Baden.

Cloture and Closure

Closure is a method of closing debate upon a subject in a legislative body and obtaining vote immediately or at a specified time. It was first introduced in the British house of commons in 1882 and it was then called "cloture," which is a French word. Later "closure" became the more common name for this method of ending debate, especially in the United States, but now there seems to be a tendency to go back to the French word "cloture." They have the same meaning.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Journalist Defined

A good journalist is one who can expand the material for a paragraph into a whole article, but never does so if he can avoid it; who is widely informed, but respects the limits of his information; who is violent in expressing his opinions, but reasonable in forming them; and who seeks to win the agreement of his readers, but would rather inspire their indignation than their indifference.—London Nation and Athenaeum.

Invention Born of War

An interesting invention born of the war is a sky-writing "gun," which has been recently perfected. It was suggested and designed during the progress of war, and it was thought that by shooting messages of various kinds on the clouds over the German cr... that it might have an influence o... soldiers to cease fighting, but w... work on the "gun" was being completed the war came to an end and the work was discontinued. Recently the work was taken up again with the idea of utilizing the device as an advertising feature and the inventors were rewarded with a very satisfactory degree of success. The device has a range from a few hundred feet to several thousand, and if there is a cloud in sight a message or a picture may be projected upon it. If there is not a cloud, one is made by shooting smoke bombs into the air and the cloud is thus provided.

Forest Industries

The forest industries occupy a commanding position in the economic structure of the United States. The capitalization in 1919 of an industrial group consisting of lumber and its remanufacture, pulp and paper, naval stores, natural dye stuffs and extracts, and wood distillation, and excluding a much larger number of smaller related industries which would not materially affect the total, exceeded $8,000,000,000, not including stumpage owned by these industries. The value of the output at the mill of this group reached practically $4,000,000,000 and the wages paid by the group was more than $1,000,000,000.

Minerals for Smithsonian

The Smithsonian institution in Washington now has the finest collection of minerals in the world. A gift containing about 1,500 specimens was recently presented to the museum by John A. Hocking. In the collection is a 64-karat black diamond from South Africa which is a perfect crystal and one of the largest black diamond crystals known. There is also a 310-karat peridot. Other interesting stones are a wine-colored topaz weighing 5 karats and an alexandrite of 30 karats.

Horseshoe Was Lucky

One of the 110 contestants who took part in a spelling bee at Detroit, Mich., was twelve-year-old Gladys Beer. And Gladys held her hands behind her back. The boys made remarks, but no one really bothered to ask her why she kept them there until the contest was over. Just a little embarrassed, Gladys held out one hand—with a full-sized horseshoe in it. "I thought I would bring it along to see if it would help me," she said. Gladys won the match.

Moisture Held by Soil

The bureau of soils says that under practical field conditions heavy soils hold the moisture longer than sandy soils. Sandy soils will hold moisture by forming a mulch on the top to a depth of one or perhaps two inches.

Aviator's Story Old to Enoch and Elijah

An aviator who had broken the world's altitude record, but who had lost his life in the attempt, was sitting on a celestial corner telling a wide-eyed circle of friends of his exploit. He described at length the thrills and the crash which had brought about the end. A wing had broken, and he had gone jerkily down through space, wobbling like the Toonerville trolley, and had landed with a fatal crash in a city street. His words held his hearers spellbound, for it is not given every man to die an adventurous death, and as he talked on passersby stopped to join the crowd which had gathered around him. Finally the talker noticed two old men with long, flowing beards moseying slowly up the street. They stopped to learn what the excitement was, shrugged their shoulders, smiled amusedly, and passed on.

"Who are these two old birds?" asked the aviator, somewhat chagrined.

"Why," replied a bystander, "don't you know them? That's Enoch and Elijah."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Curious Old Custom of Literary Giants

Lipogrammatic works, the product of the early Greek authors, are those books in which one letter of the alphabet is omitted throughout the volume. Tryphiodorus, when writing his Odyssey, had not an "a" in his first book, nor a "b" in his second. In so doing he was but copying the Lipogrammatic Iliad of Nestor.

Athenaeus writes of an ode by Pindar in which the latter purposely omitted the letter "s," thereby leading us to surmise that this little hoax was one of the literary fashions of the day. A Persian poet once read to the celebrated Jami one of his own compositions with the letter Alif consistently omitted throughout. Jami, who did not care for the sonnet, sarcastically made the following recommendation: "You can do a better thing yet, take away all the letters from every word you have written."

Although the Greeks originated this ingenious literary device, its use was by no means exclusive with them. Lope de Vega, the celebrated Spanish dramatic poet of the Sixteenth century, Gregorio Leti, and at a much later day Lord North of the court of James I all employed this literary device and produced Lipogrammatic books.—Market for Exchange.

Wrong Number

Feminine logic was demonstrated in a phone call received by a startled gentleman who picked up the instrument the other evening to hear a frenzied female voice demanding: "Is this you, Jim."

"No," he returned politely. "You have the wrong number."

"Well, you big sap," came the voice at the other end, in snappy accents, "why the dickens don't you hang up so I can get my party? Of all the nitwits I ever saw—why, you poor prune —" and so on, while the amused young man listened patiently to her colorful tirade.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Two White House "Fronts"

There are two fronts to the Executive mansion. In the days when the White House was constructed, colonial homes, especially in the South, were built with two "fronts" wherever it was possible to locate them near a river. The phrases, the river front and the land front, are found in many descriptions of colonial homes. In the early days of Washington, the Potomac flowed much closer to the White House than it does today. The building, therefore, was recorded as having a river front as well as a land front.

Job for the Censor

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 16 (AP).—The stock market today made further recovery from the sharp recession of Tuesday, with heaviest buying in the railroad group and certain established industrial leaders. Strength of these issues contrasted, however, with unmistakable signs of forced liquidation in a handful of specialties.

Steady absorption of General Motors, U. S. Steel and Baldwin and many of the rail shares gave impetus to the upward trend, carrying more than a dozen issues into new high ground for the year. General Motors reached 207⅞, a gain of five points and only fractionally under its peak price for all time. Rock Island got to 115 and St. Louis-Southwestern touched 86½, both the highest ever attained.

Strength of New York, Ontario and Western and New Haven caused a revival of rumors that control of the former would pass from the New Haven to another system. New York Central reflected realizing after yesterday's pronounced advance.

Further cuts in crude rubber prices was reflected in a fresh decline in the rubber shares and weakness of U. S. Rubber common and first preferred gave rise to some apprehension over the safety of the dividend on the latter. Omission of the dividend of American Linseed preferred, causing a sharp recession, and selling of Burns Brothers A and Foundation Company on a large scale, also were reflections of current irregularities in general business.

Ancients Saved Time by Employing Script

The difference between script and print is to be referred to a date long before the invention of printing. One must not suppose that the ancient scribes, in writing papers of but temporary value, would labor to follow the same alphabet that the carver employed upon the monuments of stone destined for all time. As far back as records have been preserved there was in existence a cursive style of writing, and instances have been preserved abundantly in Pompeii of random remarks by the ordinary citizen scribbling idle sentiments upon the walls.

The alphabet of the monuments was commonly the model for the writers of formal literature, professional penmen who looked forward to the library preservation of the works on which they were engaged. Business men used the cursive script, which was far more readily and correspondingly more rapidly written. The monumental and manuscript hand has served as the parent of the printed letter. The cursive hand is the ancestor of penmanship.

Concerning Alphabet

If 23 alphabet letters were used in making every conceivable word in every language, the number of words would exceed 25 with 23 ciphers after it.

FARM POULTRY

WATCH MARKETING EGGS AND POULTRY

"Poultry production is running wild without chart or compass, stimulated by past profits, by a tendency to shift from other nonpayment branches of agriculture to poultry raising, and by optimistic statements of those who sell supplies to poultrymen."

This is a statement of Prof. James E. Rice, head of the poultry department of the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y., commenting on trends in the poultry industry.

Recent figures showing the enrollment in the correspondence courses in poultry husbandry offered by the college, bear out this statement.

Nearly five hundred New York state farmers are studying the four poultry courses, and an analysis of this figure shows that approximately fifty are studying the general management of a laying flock to one who is taking the course in marketing of eggs and poultry.

"This may indicate," say college authorities, "that the poultrymen are a great deal more interested in producing eggs and poultry than they are in marketing them so they can compete with the high-quality products shipped to eastern markets by midwest and far west producers.

"Better marketing and curtailed production," according to Professor Rice," are necessary to save the New York state poultry industry from a serious depression."

Dirty Eggs Expensive to Careless Poultryman

Dirty eggs, especially numerous this time of year, cost farmers and poultrymen from one to three cents per dozen because of the lower grade in which they are placed, according to E. R. Menefee of Purdue university, who is investigating marketing of poultry and eggs.

Three principal causes may be assigned for the large volume of dirty eggs, Menefee found. They were: too few nests, resulting in the hens hiding their nests in dirty, wet places; unclean nests, and allowing hens free range in wet weather.

Dirty eggs can be eliminated by providing a sufficient number of clean, roomy nests, at least one to every four or five hens. These nests should be placed in a darkened part of the house to prevent egg eating and floor eggs. Do not permit hens to roost in the nests at night and change straw or shavings at frequent intervals. The wet range is the most common cause of dirty eggs. Keeping hens confined to the house in wet weather until noon, and gathering of eggs before they are let out will keep eggs clean.

Ducks Not Particular Where They Leave Eggs

Ducks lay heavily during the laying season. However, they are not particular as to where they leave the eggs. It is no uncommon sight to see duck eggs scattered here and there in the yard or hog lot. As a result of this thoughtless attitude on their part, many eggs are eaten or destroyed by dogs, swine or the ducks themselves.

The proper method of handling the ducks in order to get all the eggs laid is by keeping the ducks confined in a duck house, or an abandoned stall of the barn during the night and until eight or nine o'clock in the morning.

Poultry Items

Tobacco in some form is now generally used as a remedy for intestinal worms in poultry.

* * *

Remove all males four to five weeks of age. Furnish perching space early to prevent crowding.

* * *

You can't have thrifty chicks unless they get sunlight—either direct, or through these glass substitutes. Window glass strains out the life-giving violet rays.

The demand for fresh duck eggs is never oversupplied.

* * *

"The best hens and roosters to keep and to breed from," says one poultryman, "are the bright, nervous, 'talkative' kind, but not the 'squawkers.'" These are signs of vigor, and vigor means eggs.

* * *

It is the general practice not to keep breeding ducks more than three or four years, although people have kept them with good results until they were eight years old.

* * *

Heavy egg production, like heavy milk production, can only be secured by liberal feeding of a well-balanced ration.

Only three chicks should be placed in the brooder house for every square foot of its floor space. A house 10 by 10 feet will hold only 300 chicks.

* * *

Scratch feed, mashes, meat scraps, and milk, properly fed, under common-sense methods make it possible to bring poultry into egg production successfully.

Monument Well Deserved

On March 2, 1927, congress authorized the erection of a monument at Kill Devil Hill, Kitty Hawk, N. C., in commemoration of the first successful human attempt in all history, at power-driven airplane flights, achieved by Orville Wright, December 17, 1903.

St. Louis Set For Celebration

City Awaits Anxiously the Arrival of Lindbergh Scheduled for 4 o'clock Friday Afternoon.

St. Louis, June 16 (AP).—St. Louis today was ready to bellow forth a tumultuous welcome to its celebrated flyer, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

The thousand and one details necesary to make the home coming celebration the most elaborate ever accorded a St. Louisian, have been completed, and the city now waits anxiously and impatiently the arrival of the noted transatlantic birdman in the "Spirit of St. Louis," scheduled for 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The home coming celebration will start about 3:30 o'clock tomorrow when the flyer is scheduled to wing his way across the Mississippi river from the east. Naval reserves, stationed on the river between the Eads and Municipal bridges, wil signal his approach. The signal will set off a din of whistles, sirens and bells, destined to convey to all the city that its hero of the day has returned.

Crossing the Mississippi between the two bridges, Colonel Lindbergh will dip his plane to the colors of the naval reserve, and then circle the city before bringing his good ship the "Spirit of St. Louis" down to earth on the Lambert-St. Louis Flying Field, 15 miles from the downtown district.

Missionary Society Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Reformed Church of the Comforter will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the church hall. Mrs. George Shufeldt will have charge of devotionals, and Mrs. Charles Hicks will read a paper on "The Kentucky mountains." As this is the last attendance Until September, a good attendance is desired.

Excelsior Hose Co. Inspection.

Members of Excelsior Hose Company have been notified to report at the company headquarters, Hurley avenue at 7:30 Friday evening for inspection, wearing their complete uniform. Those who report will be allowed to go to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Convention at Poughkeepsie, Thursday, June 23. Those who fail to report are liable to a fine for neglect in not reporting.

P.-T. A. Lawn Party.

A lawn party at which there will be dancing will be held under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 1, Wilbur, Friday night at 8 o'clock on the school grounds. A cordial invitation to the public is extended. All who have articles to donate for the event may leave them at the home of Mrs. Richard Purvis, Abeel street.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, June 16.—Mid-week prayer service in the Methodist Episcopal Church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Every one invited to attend this service.

James Duffy of New York city is spending a few days at his home on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Paradee and son, Duane, and Mrs. A. Lefever have moved to Coeymans, N. Y.

Port Ewen Public School, No. 13, will close this week for the summer vacation.

The many friends of Captain Hiram T. Van Wort are pleased to hear he is improving from his severe attack of sickness. Dr. Loughran of Kingston is attending him.

Raymond Zimmerman of Chicago is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Wallace C. Mabie, of Green street.

Mrs. John Spinneweber of Pine street, who has been ill, is improving. Dr. A. P. Chalker is the attending physician.

A great many drummers, mechanics and tourists are very glad to know Port Ewen has an up-to-date restaurant in charge of Mrs. Leroy Mowell. Regular dinner served every day at noon.

Thomas Reddie, who has spent a few days with his sister, Mrs. Kathryn Grimes, of Broadway has returned to New York city.

The many friends of Mrs. Edmund Moore will be pleased to know she is improving at the Kingston City Hospital.

Dr. Snyder's Office Hours.

The office hours of Dr. Frederick Snyder, beginning Monday, June 20, and continuing throughout the month of July, will be from 1 to 4 p. m., except Thursdays and Sundays. During the period Dr. Snyder will not have evening office hours.

New Sidewalk for Elks.

The two trees on Fair street in front of the Elks' Club have been cut down preparatory to the constructing of a new concrete sidewalk to replace the old one that has been in bad condition for a long time. The work is being done by Frank S. Campbell, general contractor.

Minstrel at Zena.

The Zena Country Club minstrel will be presented Saturday evening, June 18 at 8:30, daylight saving time. The public is cordially invited. After the show there will be dancing for everybody. Popular music will be played.

AGED HUSBAND DIES WHILE WIFE IS IN JAIL

Elijah Simmons, aged husband of Vannin Simmons, who was sent to the county jail for observation after being found in company of Frank Williams, the negro bootblack, whom Police Justice Gardner of Saugerties sent to the Albany Penitentiary for six months, died Tuesday at Turkey Point, aged 80 years. The body was removed to N. R. Lasher's undertaking parlors at Saugerties where funeral services were held this afternoon with interment in Mountain View Cemetery.

The last diphtheria clinic at Olive Bridge will be held on Saturday afternoon, June 18. All children who did not receive their third treatment of toxin-anti-toxin last Saturday are urged to attend the clinic this coming Saturday.

Wiltwycks Postpone Meeting.

The meeting and supper of Wiltwyck Hose Company, which was to have been held this evening, has been postponed. Members will be given due notice when it will be held. This year Wiltwyck Hose is holding a series of meetings with a feed afterwards and it is thought advisable to wait until after the firemen's convention before holding the one which had been set for tonight.

Doubt Statement About McGraw

New York, June 16 (AP).—Advices received by New York newspapers from staff men with the Giants in St. Louis today cast doubt on a statement credited to John McGraw by the St. Louis Post Dispatch that he would turn over the active managership of the Giants to Rogers Hornsby after next season.

The version of correspondents of New York papers is that McGraw said Hornsby would in all probability succeed him when he did retire.

All Sorts of Things Occupy Engaged Man

Sunday: Engagement announced in the society column.

Monday: Received calls from eighteen insurance agents, who kept him on the defensive trying to explain why he didn't recognize his added responsibilities.

Tuesday: Was interviewed by seven furniture dealers, three motor car salesmen and thirteen real estate specialists.

Wednesday: Found approximately thirty-eight pounds of mail on his desk, chiefly from florists and gift shops, with a good representation from tailors, interior decorators, greeting card handlers and seed houses.

Thursday: Held open house for seventeen miscellaneous callers who were completing follow-up campaigns.

Friday: Spent an instructive two hours perusing circulars from travel agencies. Learned that every state and thirteen foreign countries offered honeymoon possibilities. Received professional cards from three plumbers.

Saturday: Decided to close the office early, but not before the postman left a letter from a lawyer who conveyed the information in thinly disguised fashion that he specialized in all sorts of domestic misunderstandings.—Kansas City Star.

CATCHER STRUCK OVER HEART, DIES

Newcastle, Pa., June 16 (AP).—Catching in a ball game without wearing a chest protector resulted in the death of Charles Morrow, 22.

Morrow was struck above the heart by a foul tip from the bat of an opposing player in a twilight game here last night.

Not Regular Sparton Lineup.

According to Manager Conlin of the Sparton Club it was not the regular Sparton team that the Warrington All-Stars defeated at the Fair Grounds Tuesday night. The Warringtons opposed a pickup team composed of players who were on the field but it was not the Sparton team as only one or two were members of this club.

Talk to Merchants On Civic Projects

Cooperation Urged by Max L. Reben in Talk Before Downtown Business Men's Association—Orpheum Theatre Plans Described.

Max L. Reben, local representative of the Arthur Atkins & Co., New York investment securities brokers, and Joseph Miller, part owner of the Orpheum Theatre, were the speakers at the regular meeting of the Downtown Business Men's Association Wednesday night at the rooms of the organization, 22 Ferry street. Mr. Reben's topic had to do with the promotion of civic enterprises and advertising, while Mr. Miller told of the Orpheum as it will be when completed.

President Samuel Stern presented Mr. Reben, for he said an introduction to the merchants of the speaker was not necessary as every business man in the city is acquainted with the gentleman who came here in 1920 and has been working for the betterment of Kingston since his arrival. President Stern said he was very glad to have Mr. Reben present for what he could impart to the members would be of great value, as Mr. Reben is familiar with all civic projects which are for the development of Kingston.

Mr. Reben told of his admiration for the Colonial City and said from the first time that he got a glimpse of it from the Rhinebeck ferry as he crossed the Hudson in 1920 he has regarded the city as one of the best places in which to reside.

Cooperation in Civic Matters.

Cooperation on the part of the members was urged by the speaker, who said that interest in all civic matters should be foremost in the minds of the business men. He said that one is repaid for participation in civic welfare, for it broadens and develops a wider knowledge which enables a more thorough understanding of matters other than the affairs of a merchant's own little business world.

Mr. Reben told how the merchants who understand what civic boosting amounts to, subscribed for advertising space in the program for the Ulster County Pageant to be held on June 30, which is to contain a history of Kingston. The speaker said he was proud to think that he was called upon to help in soliciting advertisements for the book and informed the merchants that every space had been taken.

In closing Mr. Reben said that concerted efforts on the part of the merchants would be the greatest for the benefit of the city. He urged that all business men expend their energies through the Chamber of Commerce.

President Stern thanked Mr. Reben for his talk and reminded the merchants of the interest he had for Kingston and of the beneficial things he accomplished while president of the chamber of commerce.

Miller Tells About Orpheum.

Joseph Miller, who is a member of the organization, was given a special invitation by President Stern to tell the members about the Orpheum theatre. Mr. Miller described the proposed building and assured the merchants that it would present a very artistic aspect both on the Broadway and Spring street sides. He said that in about ten days the architect's drawings would be ready for publication in order to let the public know just what type of building the theatre will be. He said that a description would also be given.

President Stern said that he was of the opinion that the Orpheum when completed would be one of the greatest stimulants of business in the downtown section.

The regular business session was postponed until Tuesday night, June 21, when it will be held in the rooms at 22 Ferry street.

Licenses Revoked And Suspended

Albany, N. Y., June 16.—Seven hundred and two certificates of automobile registration and licenses to drive were revoked or suspended by Charles A. Harnett, commissioner of motor vehicles, in the two weeks ended June 10. Of the revocations 15 were for failure to file omnibus bonds. In New York and vicinity there were 49 revocations and 306 suspensions, and in the other parts of the state 130 revocations and 217 suspensions.

In the Albany district there were 25 revocations, three of which were for failure to file omnibus bonds and 51 suspensions. In the vicinity of Kingston the following had their licenses revoked for driving while intoxicated: William Rush, Milton, Robert Benson, St. Remy, and James Burns, West Park. The following suspensions were executed in this vicinity: William Jones, Ulster Park, unlicensed operator, Lloyd R. Davis, Tillson, charged with reckless driving.

Ancient Hebrew Custom

"Pidyon Haben" is a Hebrew phrase meaning the "redemption of the first born." This custom is in fulfillment of the biblical command which provides that every first born male creature belongs to the religious organization through the fact that it is the possession of God and not its parents. A first born male child is, therefore, "redeemed" on the thirtieth day, according to the biblical command. The price of redemption is 20 shekels, based on the value of Joseph's redemption.

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamines that make flesh, create appetite, build up the power to resist disease and puts good solid flesh on skinny men and women.

But it's repulsive in taste and smell and nearly every stomach rebels against it.

So now men and women who keep up with the times are taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—rich in flesh producing, health building, strength creating vitamines and as easy to take as candy.

Try them for 30 days if you want to fill out those scrawny hollows in chest, cheeks and neck and gain strength and vigor. And bear this in mind if they don't help you in that time any druggist anywhere will return your money—But demand McCoy's 60 tablets 60 cents.

Beetles Long in Tree

That no appreciable changes have occurred in a species of wood boring beetle in the last 1,200 years is indicated on comparison of live specimens with dead ones which were recently found hermetically sealed in a giant Sequoia tree, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The insects apparently had entered the wood after it had been struck by lightning. Some failed to emerge and were imprisoned by the new growth that formed over the lightning scar. The time they entered the tree was computed by counting the annual rings that had grown outside of them. Naturalists are not surprised that the specimens were the same as those found alive today, for beetles are regarded as a "conservative lot," and 1,200 years is not a long time, geologically speaking. Species that were sacred to the Egyptians have shown no signs of change in thrice that time.

"Y. W." Finances Are Satisfactory

Treasurer's Report Submitted to Board of Directors Shows Year's Expenses of $10,487.17—Building Fund Now $16,772.60.

The board of directors of the Young Women's Christian Association met on Monday evening to hear reports of the season's work and discuss plans for summer and fall work, since the board does not meet regularly during the summer months.

Mrs. Joseph M. Fowler, treasurer of the Association, read the finance report for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1927, which had been duly audited by A. R. Atkins, public accountant, and pronounced correct. The report is as follows:

Balance on hand May 1, 1926	$15,483.66
Receipts During Year.
Contributions	$ 8,679.93
Memberships	531.50
Educational Classes	317.90
Girl Reserves	6.83
Club Suppers and Lunches	557.30
Rentals from Hall	555.00
Physical Department	387.45
Campaign Suppers	109.50
Interest on Bank Balances	693.18
Miscellaneous Receipts	165.15
	$12,003.74
Total	$27,487.40
Disbursements During Year.
Salaries	$ 4,547 69
Office Supplies and Expenses	404 59
Educational Classes	402.56
Campaign Expenses	171 82
Physical Department	507.50
Girl Reserves	30.28
Repairs and Renewals to Equipment	241.15
Club Suppers and Lunches	539 57
Conference Expenses	66 00
National Appropriation	526 00
Rental of Building	1,999 92
Janitor Service	310.00
Gas & Electricity	217 91
Telephone and Telegrams	125.07
Miscellaneous Supplies and Expenses	397 11
	$10,487 17
Balance on hand April 30, 1927	$17,000.23

Mrs. Fowler also pointed out to the board that this balance of $17,000.23 includes the building fund of $16,772.60 but does not include the Major Everett bequest of $5,500 which will be maintained as an endowment fund, bringing the total assets of the Association on May 1, 1927, to a total of $22,500.23.

This statement does not include the money given in the spring campaign which is for the new fiscal year, May 1927 to May 1928. Mrs. G. F. Rice, president of the Association and campaign chairman, announced the final campaign expense account as a total of $238.57.

Committee chairmen who gave reports were Miss Annie Fuller for the industrial girls' committee, Mrs. G. N. Wood for the supper committee, Mrs. Frederick Snyder for the health education committee (in the absence of Dr. Mary Gage-Day) and Miss Jane Van Etten for the Girl Reserve committee.

Coinage

When speaking of a coin, the side bearing the head is called the obverse side, and the other the reverse side. Alexander the Great of Macedonia, conqueror of the Middle East, who lived from 356 to 323 B. C., substituted his own portrait on the coins of his dominions for the figure of a pagan god. Since that time the obverse side has been occupied by the portrait of the ruler of the country issuing the coin.

Resort literature, in the main, is probably truthful, and if it advertises rooms at $2 and up, doubtless it has one room that rents for $2.

China should have been content with the mah-jongg championship and refrained from inviting all contenders to participate in a war.

NOTE THROWN FROM WINDOW BRINGS HELP

Woman Held Prisoner Rescued by Police.

New York.—"I am kept a prisoner by two men. For God's sake, don't come alone; they will keep you."

This note, received by Giuseppe Miraglia, 2130 Gravesend avenue, Brooklyn, signed by his wife, led to the arrest of one man and the rescue of Mrs. Miraglia from a room in an apartment at 215 North Fifth street, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Adeline Miraglia charged that Nicholas de Sciscio had kidnaped her. She had known Sciscio a considerable time, she told police. She had repulsed his advances. De Sciscio and another man stopped her on the street near her home, she related. De Sciscio ordered her to get into a waiting taxicab, she said, threatening to kill her, her husband, and their two children if she refused. She entered the cab and was taken to the apartment and locked in. Her clothing was removed and taken away, she said, so she could not escape.

Left alone a few minutes, she tore a scrap of paper from a bag, found a pencil stub in her handbag, scrawled the note, folded it, and wrote her husband's name across the flap, according to her story. Then she threw it out of the window. Evidently a passerby mailed it, for Miraglia received it by mail.

Miraglia showed the paper to police, who went to the apartment and knocked repeatedly. Finally Capt. John Hackett and six detectives broke down the door. Mrs. Miraglia and De Sciscio were there. A patrolman lent his overcoat to Mrs. Miraglia for the trip to the Bedford avenue station.

Latest Suicide Fad Is to Watch Self Expire

London.—"Mirror suicides" are the latest attraction to those who take their own lives here.

Numerous cases of suicide have been found here recently where the suicide has been staged before a mirror. In each case a verdict of suicide while of unsound mind has been entered.

One psychiatrist has declared the cause is a "complex of death" where the subject has so long thought of death that he is anxious to view for the last time some one in the agonies of dying.

In one case a young woman had inflicted several wounds with a razor at vital points in her body before encircling her throat with the razor. The case is declared to be the most unique suicide committed before a mirror. Witnesses said at the inquest that from the position of the body the young woman had watched herself die.

Numerous cases have been discovered where the suicide has shot himself while looking in a mirror.

Boy Pushes Pin Through Cheeks

Rochester, N. Y.—One of the rarest feats of the Hindu mystic, and believed unduplicated in this country, is that performed by Warren Smith.

Smith, a modest, unassuming lad of eighteen, has acquired, through deep study of the occult, he claims, the ability to withdraw the blood from any part of his body, and without the least pain calmly push a six-inch hat pin through both cheeks. No blood follows the withdrawal of the implement.

The secret of how the withdrawal of blood is accomplished is closed to Smith and the world at large. Concentration is his only method. Smith claims there are but three men doing this feat, all of them Orientals.

Rescue Fishers After 7 Days in Open Boat

West Palm Beach, Fla.—A fire extinguisher in which drinking water was distilled, and two small fish, kept alive seven men who drifted for seven days in a damaged boat. A blazing sun long since had changed discomfort to pain when the tanker Sunoil answered distress signals late one afternoon recently and rescued the sailors of the 32-foot craft seventy-five miles north of Jupiter light.

At noon on the first day out for deep-sea fishing their engine burned out a bearing. Thinking rescue a matter of hours, they did not conserve their food supply.

In the case of a fire extinguisher salt water was boiled and the steam set off through the hose. Their last meal, on the third day, was made from two small fish.

Swindles Lawyers

New York.—James Brisco, twenty-seven, arrested, admitted he had collected $500 a week for three years, a total of $78,000, by swindling lawyers on his plea of being a destitute veteran with $4,000 due from the veterans' bureau as extra compensation.
